CARLISTS AGAIN SAID TO BE WEAKENING.

LONDON, August 3.—A dispatch from Madrid says the Alfonsists troops continue successful, several important victories being gained last week. The Carlists are evidently approaching dissolution. Lizzaraga, with 3,000 Carlists, is in the citadel at Seo de Urgel. Spanish funds have risen, owing to the improved prospect.

RELIGIOUS FEATURES OF THE NEW CONSTITUTION.

MADRID, August 3.—The proposed new Spanish Constitution was promulgated yesterday. It establishes Catholicism as the national religion. The Government is obliged, itself, to maintain its worship and its ministers, but nobody shall be molested on Spanish territory for religious opinions or in the exercise of their respective worships, so long as respect due to Christian morality is paid. Nevertheless other public ceremonies or demonstrations than those of State religion are prohibited. Canovas Del Castillo, President of the Constitutional Committee, declares the meaning to be that Protestants may have churches with open doors and celebrate worship inside, but there must be no manifestations in the streets. It is believed that the Cortes will be summoned to meet soon, when the proposed Constitution will be submitted. Consequently political agitation is recommencing.

An official dispatch announces that Gen. Weyler has routed the Carlists under Gen. Saballe, in Catalonia. The Carlist General Dorregaray is at Berga.

The Bishop of Mostar has induced the insurgents at the town of Gabella to abandon the insurrection and return to their homes.

LONDON, August 3.—The Mark Lane Express, in its weekly review of the corn trade, says: "The cereal crop just reaching maturity having been saved by fine weather, we may yet have a moderate harvest in good order. The upward movement has stopped and prices have relapsed partly in consequence of foreign arrivals, which are unusually free, but current rates scarcely reach an average and are still below those of last year. The harvest in France is progressing rapidly, but the general reports indicate less than a fair average yield, although in Paris and Marseilles prices have fallen two shillings. Belgian and German markets show a similar change. Official accounts of the crops in Austria and Hungary show that there is more likelihood of a deficiency than a surplus."

NATIONAL EDUCATIONAL ASSOCIATION.

Fifteenth Annual Session at Minneapolis.

MINNEAPOLIS, August 3.—The fifteenth annual session of the National Educational Association convened at the Academy of Music, in this city, to-day. Nearly five hundred persons were present at the opening of the exercises, and many more are expected before the close of the Convention. The Board of Directors had a business meeting at nine A. M., the Association proper not convening until ten A. M. At that hour Rev. R. Sample opened the Convention with prayer, after which Mayor Merriman, in a brief speech, extended to the guests the hospitalities of the city.

His Excellency Governor Davis was then introduced, and in a most eloquent address, spoke of the educational facilities of the State, and the work of the Convention assembled. He closed by extending the hospitality of the State to those present.

President Harris then made a response and the opening address on the part of the Association.

Superintendent McKenzie, of Illinois, was elected Secretary pro tem., after which the Convention adjourned until this afternoon.

At two P. M. the Convention resolved itself into three separate departments—the Department of Normal Schools, the Elementary and the Department of Higher Education. The last named department discussed, during the afternoon, a very able paper on the "Relation and Duties of Educators to Crime," by J. B. Bittinger, D. D., of Pennsylvania, after which they adjourned until to-day.

The Department of Normal Schools met at Harrison's Hall. Miss Lathrop, of Cincinnati, read an able essay on the "Professional Education of Teachers," and brief addresses were made by President Allen, of Illinois; Prof. Albee, of Wisconsin, and a number of others. The department adjourned until two P. M., to-morrow, after a profitable and very agreeable session. At the general evening session, Prof. Phelps, of Winona, read an exhaustive essay on "Country Schools."

C. H. Roberts, of Rochester, and W. H. Wing, of St. James, were appointed Secretaries, and Aaron Gove, of Denver; A. J. Daniels, of Grand Rapids; A. F. Caldwell, of St. Louis; P. M. Woodman, of Minneapolis, and Professor Fogg, of St. Paul, Treasurers of the Association.

J. L. Pickard, A. Aberthy, A. A. White, D. B. Hager, W. T. Phelps, Superintendent Jilson, Superintendent Read, C. B. Palmer, John H. French, J. H. Smart, A. Gove, Daniel Read, W. R. Buchanan, W. T. Picket and Joseph Cruikshank were appointed a Committee on Nominations for the year.

The Committee on Teachers and Schools is as follows: Robt Allyn, J. Baldwin, W. Phelps, O. M. Magee and S. Etter.

Nearly 1,000 person were in attendance in the evening, notwithstanding the rain. The Association will take an excursion to Minnehaha Falls to-morrow.

UNIVERSITY AT LEWISBURG, PA.

Annual Statement of the Curators.

The last commencement, held June 30th, was one of unusual interest. Large classes were graduated both from the college and also from the University Female Institute. The examinations of classes and the graduating exercises were creditable alike to teachers and pupils. All departments of the University have been doing excellent work, and were never more worthy of generous patronage than now. We are confident that facilities are afforded for as thorough an education as can be obtained in older and more numerously attended institutions, while the expenses are far less. Few similar institutions can show a better record for the first quarter of a century than the University at Lewisburg.

There have been changes during the past year in the boards of control. The Board of Trustees suffered loss in the death of Park H. Cassady; Esq., of Philadelphia. Vacancies in this board were filled by the election of Messrs. T. J. Hoskinson and W. H. Harrison, of Philadelphia, and Hon. C. F. Wolfe, of Lewisburg. Rev. L. Moss, D.D., and Prof. Trask retired from the Board of Curators, and Revs. Robert Lowry, D.D., R. W. Pearson, D.D., and Geo. Cooper were elected to fill vacancies.

There have also been changes in the boards of instruction. Professors Lowry and Larrison retire from the college faculty, the former after six years of effective service, the latter after but one year of labor, being called away by the imperative demands of private interests. Several vacancies also occured among assistant teachers in the English academy and in the University Female Institute. The Trustees are already engaged in filling these vacancies, and will be prepared to continue the work of instruction in all the departments at the beginning of the next term in September. It is the design of boards and instructors alike, to make the University at Lewisburg worthy of the unqualified and enthusiastic support of its friends, and of the patrons of higher education throughout the State; and to adjust its curriculum and multiply its facilities so as to compete successfully with other colleges and universities in meeting the educational requirements of the age. Never were the prospects of our beloved University brighter than now. It carries no incubus of debt, and has an income which meets its present scale of expenses. But the demand for immediate advancement is imperative, in founding new professorships, in furnishing an adequate remuneration to professors and teachers now in the service, in the enlargement of the library and the increase of facilities in the scientific department. Such enlargement becomes necessary, from the advanced requirements of the age, and also by the actual and contemplated advance of other institutions occupying in part the same field. We must advance or lose our relative standing as an educational institution. This would be disastrous and fatal. But the outlook is hopeful. It has been decided that the least we can worthily attempt for Lewisburg, as our Centennial offering for higher education, is to add three hundred thousand dollars to its endowment. The Centennial Secretary, Rev. E. W. Bliss, is already in the field. We bespeak for him a hearty reception and an enthusiastic co-operation throughout the entire State.

In behalf of the Board of Curators of the University at Lewisburg,

GEO. FREAR,
J. A. KELLY, } Committee.
J. A. GUNDY,

FROM ST. PAUL, MINN.

Colored men Invited to Participate in the O'Connell Centennial Celebration.

Special Correspondence of Pittsburgh Commercial.

ST PAUL, July 28, 1875.

I herewith send you a clip from the Pioneer Press of this morning: As the Irishmen of St. Paul have displayed a generous disposition towards their darker hued brothers and have cordially invited them to participate in the O'Connell centennial celebration, and from the subjoined manly and dignified letter from one of the most estimable and intelligent colored citizens of St. Paul, it will be seen that the invitation has been accepted in the same spirit with which it was tendered:

ST. PAUL, July 26, 1875.

DEAR SIR:—Your kind note of invitation to be present at the entertainment on the evening of August 6th, and respond to the sentiment, "Freedom; God's gift, man's birthright," was received yesterday. I thank you kindly for the same. I accept it gratefully. You must not expect an able speech from me. If I understand the purpose of your note, you and your compatriots are holding out the olive branch of peace to me and mine, and that you are disposed to extend the right hand of fellowship. You seem to want the old prejudices, hatreds and bad feelings buried in oblivion. This is coming up to the mark right manfully, and entering into the spirit of that great and good man, Mr. Daniel O'Connell, who, had he lived, would have rejoiced to have seen my people free; and I think would have been pleased to learn that old Ireland's children were, to say, fraternizing with the enfranchised.

We are now all citizens of the great Republic. We can now all help forward or retard the material interests of our great country. God grant we may have peace, union and harmony throughout our land.

With great respect, R. BANKS.

Mr. Henry O'Gorman, Secretary of the O'Connell Centennial Committee.

Erin stretches out her hand to Ethiopia, and hereafter we can have hoe-cakes and potatoes at the same meal without a me-lee.

The Democratic party has done its best to keep up the feud between the Irish and Africans, but the light of the civilization of the nineteenth century, as reflected by the Republican party, at last dawns and turns its light even on the sons of the Emerald Isle. The wheelbarrow and the hoe will now meet, and the men who handle them will acknowledge each other as brethren, and thus furnish one more evidence of the truthfulness of the doctrine of the Fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man, as taught by the Republican party.

Democrats will now go to the negro and tell him it is now time to lay aside his antipathy to that party; but the negro would perhaps long remember the time when that party did all in its power to prevent him from being anything but a "nigger" and a slave, and that for what rights he gains he is in no way indebted to the party which riveted his chains as long as it could hold a hammer. Whittier's prophecy is fulfilled:

"The day is dawning in the East
Of which the prophets told,
And brightens up the sky of life
The Christian's age of gold;
Old might to right is yielding,
Battle blade to clerkly pen;
Earth's monarchs are her peoples
And her serfs stand up as men."

FROM CLAYSVILLE, PA.

Normal School—Croquet and Rain.

Special Correspondence of Pittsburgh Commercial.

CLAYSVILLE, WASHINGTON CO., PA., July 29, 1875.

After a very pleasant ride of about three hours from the Smoky City, over the Chartiers and Hempfield Railroads, through beautiful valleys, teeming with golden grain, ripe to the harvest, and along lofty hills covered alternately with noble forest trees and flocks of sheep, we arrived at this quiet old town of Claysville. The memory of man runneth not to the time when it was not. There is a legend which makes it take its name from the fact that Henry Clay used to pass along the pike which runs through the village, on his way to Washington, D. C., from his home in the neighborhood of the home of Daniel Boone. It is a quiet retreat, disturbed only by the arrival and departure of the train on the Hempfield Railroad twice every day, each way. Doubtless, from this fact, we can account for its being selected as the proper place to hold a "summer normal school" for several years past, as well as from the fact that the people here appreciated and encouraged the enterprise. Suffice it to say, at any rate, a successful normal school has been held here during the summer months for some time past. Last year and this it was conducted by one well known in Pittsburgh and vicinity—George T. McCord, of the Curry Institute, assisted by Mr. T. B. McCain, of this county, a teacher of acknowledged ability. Last year Miss Sallie H. McCalmont, now teacher of elocution in the Sagamore State Normal School, gave instruction in reading and elocution, while this year Mrs. Anna Randall Diehl, of New York, occupied a similar position in the school, greatly to the pleasure and seeming profit of all in attendance. Her farewell entertainment, a few evenings since, was indeed an entertainment, and one which stamps her as a reader of rare ability and a lady of fine literary taste. She goes from here to Dunkirk, N. Y., to participate in the meeting of the State Teachers' Association. She carries with her the esteem of all who made her acquaintance.

The school is well attended by an earnest corps of teachers, and there is every indication to the visitor that it is a success in every particular, both Mr. McCord and Mr. McCain being regarded by all the pupils as efficient instructors.

Much interest is manifested in croquet by students, teachers and a number of ministers visiting among friends here. Some of the clergymen are champion players.

The rain has been too abundant and of too long duration for the convenience of farmers in harvesting their hay, wheat and oats. A great deal of the hay will be a total loss. MAX.

Mr. Johnson Warned of Failing Health on His Last Visit to the Capital.

Condition of the Navy—Statistics from the Revised Register.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 3, 1875.

The Insane Hospital Scandal.

There is a good deal of excitement both among the people of Maryland and of this city, over the action of the Superintendent of the Government Hospital for the Insane in sending poor and insane patients to be turned adrift in the surrounding country. It seems that this has actually been done in several cases, some of them having been driven a dozen miles into the country at night and then turned loose. The present surgeon in charge of the asylum, Dr. Nicholas, who has held the office for a number of years, explains his course by saying that it was done by order of the Commissioners of the District, they having directed him to dispose in this manner of such patients as were not properly chargeable to the District of Columbia. The case will result in a strong effort for Dr. Nicholas' removal and, in all probability, in a Congressional investigation of the manner in which the asylum has been administered.

Mr. Johnson Warned of Failing Health.

During Mr. Johnson's last visit to Washington he was in social conversation with his physician, Dr. Cox, when the latter said, "You are not looking as well as usual, Mr. Johnson." The ex-President bristled up and replied, sharply, "You are mistaken, sir. I was never better." This did not shake the doctor's opinion that he was failing, and he was not surprised to hear of his death.

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 3, 1875.

CONDITION OF THE NAVY.

The United States Naval Register, corrected and revised up to July 22, has just been issued under the direction of the Secretary of the Navy. It shows the number of officers to be as follows: One admiral, one vice admiral, thirteen rear admirals, twenty-six commodores, fifty captains, ninety commanders, 100 lieutenant commanders, 268 lieutenants, ninety-eight masters, twenty-three ensigns, 109 midshipmen. The staff is made up of 164 surgeons and assistants, 128 paymasters and assistants, 224 engineers and assistants. The retired list embraces thirty-six rear admirals, twenty commodores, five commanders and at least 100 others of lower and various grades in the service.

The number and class of ships is as follows: First rate, five; second rate, twenty-nine; third rate, thirty; fourth rate, six. There are four wooden sailing vessels of the second rate, seventeen of the third rate, and four of the fourth rate. The total number of guns carried by these vessels is 1,107.

There are only twenty volunteer officers now in the service, nearly all of whom are acting assistant surgeons.

THE LATE EX-PRESIDENT.

All the Executive departments and also the offices of the District government are closed to-day, out of respect to the memory of ex-President Johnson. Flags at half mast and emblems of mourning are displayed in various localities.

KENTUCKY ELECTION.

Additional Returns.

LOUISVILLE, August 3.—Specials to the Courier-Journal give the following additional results to those telegraphed yesterday:

Grayson county gives McCreary, Democrat, 275 majority, a gain of 75 over Leslie's vote.

Hardin gives McCreary 500 majority, about the same as for Leslie.

Mason gives McCreary 765 majority, a loss of 100 on Leslie's vote.

Webster gives McCreary 665 majority, a gain of 140.

Warren gives 900 majority for McCreary, a gain of nearly 500 over Leslie's vote.

So far as yet heard from, the Democratic majority in the lower House of the Legislature will be about the same as last year. Returns are coming very slowly, and no definite statement can be made as to McCreary's majority, or whether the Constitutional Convention has carried.

LOUISVILLE, August 3.—Additional specials to the Courier-Journal says:

Montgomery county gives McCreary 164 majority, a gain over Leslie's vote of 14.

Bath gives McCreary 300 majority, a gain of 60 votes.

McCreary carries Mercer by a good majority, but the Republican candidate for the Legislature, a Granger, succeeds a former Democrat.

A special from Washington says McCreary has a majority. The county gave Harland 65 majority in 1871. The Democratic candidate for the Legislature is elected by one thousand majority in the county.

TEXAS.

Vote for Constitutional Convention—Galveston Artillery to Attend the Centennial.

GALVESTON, August 3.—Election returns from fifty-one voting precincts in Texas show a small majority in favor of a Constitutional Convention. A very light vote was polled.

The Galveston Artillery, the oldest military organization in the State, have decided to attend the Centennial next July, at Philadelphia.

CRIMINAL RECORD.

The Waddy Thompson Jury Disagree.

MEMPHIS, August 3.—The jury in the Waddy Thompson case to-day reported to Judge Flippin that they could not agree, and were discharged. Judge Flippin held the former bond of $10,000 good and unforfeited, and required an additional bond of $2,000, which Thompson has failed to give. It is stated that he will apply to Judge Trigg, of the United States District Court, for a writ of habeas corpus.

Mountain Meadow Trial—The Jury Charged—Interview with an Indian Chief.

BEAVER, UTAH, August 3.—The Associated Press reporter had an interview with the Indian Chief Beaverlie, to-day. He states that Lee secured the aid of the Indians to kill the emigrants, by an offer of clothing and horses; that Lee commanded during the fight; that the Indians had no animosity against the emigrants; that the story about the emigrants poisoning an ox or a spring is all a lie; that Lee is a coward and wants to throw all the blame on the Indians. Judge Boreman charged the jury this afternoon.

Connecticut Murderer Arrested.

WORCESTER, MASS., August 3.—Dwight F. Steere, of Putnam, Conn., a young man twenty-seven years of age, was to-day arrested in this city for the murder of Frederick White, of Spencer, Mass., at New London, Conn., last Wednesday night. He admits that he stabbed his victim five times with a jack-knife, and robbed the body of thirty-one dollars.

ANDREW JOHNSON BURIED.

Last Rites Performed by Masons, in Presence of Thousands of Mourners.

NASHVILLE, August 3.—The following special, received to-night from Greenville, Tenn., to the Banner, says:

The events of to-day have justified yesterday's expectation. The body of Andrew Johnson has been buried in presence of such crowds of people as, living, he delighted to face and address. The day opened gloomily, the town being shrouded in mist, which, rising, showed the mountains enveloped in clouds. Many misgivings and fears were expressed as to the weather, and many hopes were entertained that the day would brighten. It did so, and was all that could have been wished for—occasionally warm, and somewhat sultry at times, but alternating in sunshine and shadow and free from rain.

ARRIVAL OF STRANGERS.

Governor Porter, Comptroller Gaines, Senator Fowler, Mr. Burns, George White and other Nashville visitors; Deputy Grand Master Connor, of the Knoxville Commandery, and many Lower East Tennesseeans arrived on the morning trains, en route to the houses of friends, where they stopped. The Governor's and Comptroller's carriage stopped in front of the Court House and they entered and visited the remains. The taste and industry of the ladies and the energy of the gentlemen of Greenville had united to make the dingy old court room sadly beautiful and almost a suitable place for the remains of even an ex-President to lie in state. The casket, plain but elegant, resting on coffin-stands in the midst of foliage and flowers, was closed so that no part of the body was visible, but on it lay an excellent steel engraving of President Johnson, in a heavy gilt Masonic frame, while upon the walls and canopy posts were hung various portraits and engravings of the deceased. The regular trains from the East, arriving at seven and ten, brought a large number of people from the up-country, and a special train of seven cars from Knoxville, at eleven o'clock, brought a large delegation from that city and many from the other towns along the route. Meanwhile the citizens had been steadily thronging the roads from all directions, and before noon fully 5,000 persons were assembled to attend the burial. At noon the family came from the residence to the Court House.

THE FUNERAL PROCESSION.

Greenville Lodge brought the body out and placed it in the hearse. The procession was formed and marched to the grave, under charge of the marshal and assistants, in the following order: Johnson Guards, Patrons of Husbandry, Odd Fellows, German band and Dickinson Guards, of Knoxville; Masonic lodges and chapters, hearse bearing the body, with pall bearers attending and Knights Templars as a guard of honor; the family in carriages, Governor Porter, other State officers and distinguished guests, members of the press and, lastly, citizens on foot and horseback. Special coverings for the hearse horses, adorned with varied Masonic insignia, had been prepared for the occasion by the undertakers.

DISTINGUISHED VISITORS.

Among the distinguished visitors not already mentioned, were Judges McFarland and Frigg and Chancellor Key, Congressmen McFarland, Thornbury and Crutchfield; Representatives Butler, Taylor and Lekgewood; Colonel John Williams, Colonel Lutterell and Mayor Staub, of Knoxville, to whose industry and energy in no small decree may be attributed the large and respectable delegation from that city.

THE GRAVE ON JOHNSON'S HILL.

The grave is on a hill, a half mile southwest of the town, in view and on the left of the railroad as you go to Knoxville. It is a natural mound, about one hundred feet high, and commands a view of the Unaka range, on the southeast, for fifty miles, while to the northwest may be seen the Blue Ridge and Cumberland mountains.

SERVICES AT THE GRAVE.

Thither, to the music of the bands, the mournful procession moved, and was arranged in a double circle around the grave, leaving an open space of about two hundred feet in diameter, inclosing the family, the Knoxville Commandery, the Knoxville Glee Club and the Governor and other distinguished visitors. The Knights then performed their beautiful funeral ceremony, under the lead of Commander Woodward and aided by the Glee Club. A brief abridgement of the Master Mason's ceremony of burial was then conducted, with much feeling and eloquence, by D. G. M. Connor, aided by the Greenville Lodge, amidst the moans and sighs and tears of the bereaved family. The clods rattled upon the coffin lid of Andrew Johnson, his body was committed to the dust, his soul to the God who gave it. Nothing whatever of an unpleasant nature occurred to mar the mournful harmony of the solemn occasion. Order and quiet reigned during the whole day, and the respectful silence of the large concourse of people was a feeling tribute to the memory of one who ranked gratitude as the chiefest of human virtues.

DEPARTURE OF THE STRANGERS.

At three P. M. the services were concluded and the orderly crowd dispersed. At four o'clock the trains bore away most of the East Tennessee visitors. The Nashville and Chattanooga delegations left on the seven P. M. train, and Greenville is left alone to mourn the loss of her illustrious dead.

BLACK HILLS.

Successful Prospecting for Gold—Valuable Iron Deposits Found—General Crook Arrives and Orders Out All Intruders.

CHICAGO, August 3.—The Inter-Ocean Black Hills special says the gold discoveries reported by Professor Janney and the miners are duly confirmed by recent prospecting. Professor Janney believes the mines in Janney's gulch will average three to four cents a pan, which is considered a cautionary figure, while the miners along Spring creek place their lowest estimate above that figure, and the maximum is without limit.

An immense ferruginous ledge has also been discovered, seven to eight miles in extent, lying to the north. It proves to be of great value. The command left Camp Harney on Sunday, for Rapid creek, thirty-five miles northwest from Custer's gulch, where the next permanent camp will be located.

General Crook, with his escort, has arrived at Camp Crook, as the commander of the department and to carry out the orders of President Grant and Generals Sherman and Sheridan. General Crook has issued a special order requiring all miners and other unauthorized persons to leave the Black Hills, the Powder river and the Big Horn country on or before August 15th. Two companies of cavalry and one of infantry are now en route to carry into effect this order in case of opposition. The miners in different parts of the hills have held a meeting and decided to submit and abandon their claims until they can lawfully resume labor. It is believed no trouble will ensue.

FALL RIVER.

The Mill Lockout—Fifteen Thousand Operatives Idle—Every Mill But One Closed.

FALL RIVER, MASS., August 3.—About 15,000 operatives are idle, and probably will be for thirty days, although rumors prevail that work will be resumed in a week. A great deal of dissatisfaction exists, and many are willing to go to work, including a good part of spinners, who heretofore acted almost as a unit. How long the mills will remain closed it is impossible to say, and the manufacturers do not know themselves; but one thing that will influence them very much is that they think it hard that the operatives opposed to the strike and willing to work at a reduction should be locked out. Many storekeepers have given notice that they must have cash for their goods, and no credit will be given until they work. Every mill has stopped, with the exception of the Stafford, which will soon close.

DAVENPORT, IOWA.

Bishop-Elect Eccleston Accepts the Situation.

DAVENPORT, IOWA, August 3.—A letter from Rev. J. H. Eccleston, of Philadelphia, Bishop-elect of this Episcopal Diocese, was received by the Chairman of the Standing Committee yesterday, in which Dr. Eccleston states that he had delayed responding to the announcement of his election in May last, because of the protest against the manner of his election. He has carefully weighed the evidence on both sides and sees no good ground for the charges made. He therefore leaves the final result with the Standing Commitees throughout the country and the House of Bishops. With their decision he will be content.

THE DELUGE.

Further Reports of Damage in the West.

The Wabash Higher than Since the Settlement of Indiana.

Latest Particulars from Ohio, Illinois and Elsewhere.

CENTRAL ILLINOIS—A MILLION DOLLARS DAMAGE.

JACKSONVILLE, ILL., August 3.—The recent storms in Central Illinois have done immense damage to the crops, bridges and railroads. The loss is estimated to amount to a million dollars. That of Morgan county alone is nearly a quarter of a million.

DANGER TO LOUISIANA LEVEES.

NEW ORLEANS, August 3.—General Thompson, Chief State Engineer, says the Arkansas levees, near the Louisiana line, are low and in a bad condition, and the Raleigh, Milliken's, Omego and Waterproof levees are caving. In about ten days the floods from above will arrive at Red river, and should the upper levees give way the whole country around Bayou Macon will be overflowed.

AT MEMPHIS.

MEMPHIS, August 3.—There is little change to note in the situation here, as regards the river, which rose two inches during the past twenty-four hours and now stands eleven inches below the rise of this spring, and three feet below the flood of 1867; but reports from above indicate that the flood will exceed the spring rise.

FROM EVANSVILLE.

EVANSVILLE, August 3.—The crops on the low bottoms are utterly ruined. The heavy damage to the Evansville and Crawfordsville Railroad above Patoka, will be repaired to-morrow.

UNPRECEDENTED FLOOD IN WABASH RIVER—WABASH AND ERIE CANAL DESTROYED BETWEEN LAFAYETTE AND FORT WAYNE.

LAFAYETTE, IND., August 3.—The flood in the Wabash is more than a foot above the high water mark of 1858, and several inches higher than ever before since the settlement of the country. All the tributaries have been running out, and the low grounds are all overflowed. In many places the river is three to five miles wide. The damage is incalculable, and great suffering must result to tenants on the low lands, whose all is swept away. The Wabash bottom, for an average of a mile and a half wide, the whole length of the river, is submerged, and crops, both harvested and growing, are swept away. Our city is located on high ground, and slight damage has been experienced, except to manufactories and mills.

The destruction of the Wabash and Erie Canal, between here and Fort Wayne, is complete. It is broken in a hundred places. The canal and river have been on a level for forty-eight hours, the water of the river rushing through the latter and running over the banks from one to the other at all low places. This will be a terrible blow to the people of the State. It is impossible to estimate any more accurately the acreage submerged.

The Louisville, New Albany and Chicago Railroad is much damaged between here and Battle Ground. The other railroads are all right. The portion of the city located on the west banks of the Wabash has been cut off for two days by the water overflowing the bridge and levees, and communication is only kept open by skiffs. The river has fallen about two and one-half inches since seven o'clock this morning, and is still very slowly receding.

WEST VIRGINIA.

WHEELING, August 3.—Wheeling creek was higher yesterday than it was ever known. The abutments of the bridge two miles east of the city moved over a foot. At all points along the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, between this city and Grafton, great destruction of property and loss of grain, have occurred. The town of Farmington is almost completely submerged, the water being on the first floor of nearly all the houses. There are a number of heavy land slides on the railroad, and four bridges are carried away on the Parkersburg branch of the Baltimore and Ohio [illegible] in waves dressed headings, logs and barrels, carried away from the vicinity of New Martinsville, this State, will amount to over $100,000. All low lands in this section are submerged. The river is now rising slowly, and will not reach over about twenty-eight feet. There was but little rain to-day.

MONTGOMERY COUNTY, OHIO, LOSES HALF A MILLION DOLLARS.

DAYTON, OHIO, August 3, 10 P. M.—The Miami and tributaries have receded over four feet, and are running out rapidly. The weather is still dismal and drizzly. Small grains are badly damaged, tobacco used up, potatoes rotting and a narrow belt of corn considerably damaged.

Part of the big bridge across the Miami, eight miles south of Dayton, was washed away last night. Loss five thousand dollars. The total damage in Montgomery county to crops and other property is estimated at half a million dollars.

COOK COUNTY, ILLINOIS—$100,000.

CHICAGO, August 3.—The floods in this county have done damage to the amount of about $100,000. The chief injury is from the overflow of the Calumet river, which has inundated meadow lands and destroyed large crops of hay.

AT CHILLICOTHE.

CINCINNATI, August 3.—A Times special from Chillicothe says: The rain continues, and the flood gains strength. The canal broke below the city and swept 5,000 bushels of wheat into the river. The people living in the bottom lands are moving their families, fearing an inundation.

MISSISSIPPI.

Democratic State Convention—Nomination for Treasurer—Spirit of the Platform.

MEMPHIS, August 3.—The Appeal's Jackson, Miss., special says: The Democratic-Conservative State Convention assembled at the Capitol to-day, was the largest assemblage since 1861. All the prominent men of the State were present. The Convention was called to order at 11 o'clock, by Col. J. M. Stone, of Tishomingo, Chairman of the Executive Committee. A temporary organization was dispensed with, and ex-Governor Charles Clarke was declared President, and J. L. Power Secretary.

After the appointment of a Committee on Resolutions, Colonel Lamar addressed the meeting at length, arraigning in the severest manner the Government Administration and opposing the madness of the so-called color line.

Hon. W. L. Hemingway was unanimously nominated for State Treasurer.

The platform reported by the Committee and adopted, is mainly confined to State matters. It recognizes to the fullest extent the civil and political equality of all men, and asks the aid and assistance of the voters of all parties, of both races, in the establishment of good government. The color-line is wholly ignored.

After the appointment of an Executive Committee, the Convention adjourned. To-night bands are parading the streets and cannons firing.

The District Committee nominated General W. T. Martin, in the Sixth, and Col. O. R. Singleton, in the Fourth Congressional district.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, August 3, 1875.

A HUNDRED CHILDREN DYING DAILY—CALL FOR VOLUNTEER PHYSICIANS.

Dr. Gibbs states that the mortality among the poor children of this city, averaging one hundred a day, is chiefly from cholera infantum. He calls for volunteer physicians.

National Sunday School Assembly.

BUFFALO, August 3.—The second annual meeting of the National Sunday School Assembly, at Fair Point, Chautauqua Lake, commenced this evening. The attendance is not so large as may be expected when the weather becomes pleasant. There will be a conference of the Board of Instruction to-morrow.

POLITICAL.

State.

Hon. A. H. Dill, of Union county, has formally announced that he is not a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the Governorship of Pennsylvania.

"Heresh ter-er Prownypacker and Bence," shouted a hunker in a William street saloon, the other evening, as he contemplated the benefits likely to result to the Democracy from the Prohibition ticket.—Williamsport Gazette and Bulletin.

General.

It is intimated that Vice President Wilson will make a few speeches in the Ohio campaign.

The Boston Journal proposes a family ticket for Massachusetts as follows: "For Governor, Charles Francis Adams (Ind.); for Secretary of State, John Quincy Adams (Dem.); for Treasurer, Charles Francis Adams, Jr., (Rep.); for Auditor, Henry Adams (Ind.); for Attorney General, Brooks Adams (Rep.)" The Journal thinks there would be no use for a Lieutenant Governor with such a ticket. It is all in the family, and yet well distributed among the parties.

Bishop Coxe, of the Western New York Episcopal Diocese, boasted in his pulpit recently that he never "cast a political vote." Most men would have been ashamed to say so; it implies a gross neglect of a high duty.—Detroit Post.

The Cincinnati Gazette says that Governor Allen is losing ground every day. His own speeches are telling against him with effect. Such addresses as he made at Newark and Gallipolis are driving Democrats from him all over the State.

The political situation in New York is beautiful. Charles O'Connor, and, most likely, Governor Tilden, are at outs with the Court of Appeals; John Morrissey and Ottendorfer are pegging away at Tammany Hall lively; M'Guire and his set are bombarding those who are bombarding the canal ring, and, in short, the Democracy of the Empire State is "all tore up." Now let the Republicans nominate a first-rate ticket, and go in and win.

According to the Cincinnati Commercial, General Harlan speaks hopefully of the Republican cause in Kentucky. He reduced the old Democratic majority thirty thousand when he ran before, and he is at the remainder of the margin. He has been through the State pretty thoroughly, and the Republicans are in good spirits. It is entirely respectable now in Kentucky to be a Republican, and, in spite of the prevailing impression in the country, two-thirds of the Kentucky Republicans are white men.

It is up hill work for a man to fill the Democratic bill this year. Down East he must be sound on the license question; in New York he is reviled and hooted at by the orthodox in Democratic faith if he favors greenbacks; while in Ohio to mention hard money brings down upon him the wrath of the faithful all the way from the once hard-money Bill Allen to the horny-handed Sam Carey. The honest Democrats of Ohio are getting more and more ashamed of their position, and the day of their defeat will also be a day of joyful release.—Toledo Blade.

As a teacher of the "honest voter," the intelligent Democratic editor of the Jersey Shore, Pa., Herald is a model. He has been taking a Rip Van Winkle nap and wakens up with the following profound note on the political situation. The italics are ours: "The Democracy of Ohio are charged by a venal and venomous section of the Republican press, as the friends of inflation and repudiation; and even one seeming Democratic paper, under rag money pay perhaps, has sounded the same note and wishes for the defeat of Governor Allen. Softly, gentlemen, softly. Facts are accumulating which will undeceive honest voters."

General Hawley denounces, with more justice than politeness, the citizen who stays away from the primary meetings and from the polls on election days—who does not mingle in politics. He says no man should decline to be more or less a politician who is not opposed to a republican form of government. The staying away is growing to proportions that render it absolutely as dangerous as avowed hostility to the established form of Government, because it is throwing control of the Government into hands familiar only with wicked ways; and General Hawley's example in denouncing it should be followed by every man of any influence in these United States.

Referring to the assertion made by colored friends that he is being quoted as having advised the colored people to leave the Republican party, Mr. Frederick Douglass makes this reply in a letter just published: "There is no truth in the story that I at Hillsdale, or anywhere else, advised colored men to abandon the leaders of the Republican party and to set up for themselves. In the speech at Hillsdale no such idea was in my mind and heart, and how anybody could honestly think otherwise I cannot imagine. Properly interpreted, it is an appeal to the American people to substitute the simple rule of justice for the rule of invidious charity in their treatment of the negro—to give him his rights rather than alms, and to give him, not favor, but fair play."

A few days since we published a list of the States which hold elections this fall. Their present political complexion is indicated below. Most of the majorities are those of elections held in 1874:

Arkansas, Democratic majority (so called)	19,863
California, Republican State officers, Opposition Legislature.
Maine, Republican majority	11,397
Iowa, Republican majority	28,202
Ohio, Democratic majority for Allen in 1873	817
Virginia, Democratic majority	27,239
Kansas, Democratic majority	13,283
Kentucky, Democratic majority	60,000
Maryland, Democratic majority	14,120
Massachusetts (Governor), Democratic majority	7,032
Mississippi, Republican majority	21,403
Minnesota, Republican majority	9,800
Missouri, Democratic majority	37,452
New York, Democratic majority	50,317
New Jersey, Democratic majority	13,233
Pennsylvania, Democratic majority	4,679
Wisconsin, Democratic Governor elected in 1873, majority	357
Texas, Democratic majority	47,631

The Congressional election in Wisconsin last fall resulted in favor of the Republicans.

TROUBLES OF A MILLIONAIRE.

James Shay, the Detroit Free Press' Millionaire Tug Engineer, Locked Up in a Police Station on a Charge of False Pretenses.

It will be recollected that one James Shay, an engineer on the tug Hand, was some time ago published by an afternoon sheet in this city and a sensational paper in Detroit, as having received a fortune by the death of relatives in England, which consisted mainly of land in Philadelphia, of which he obtained possession only after a litigation. The story was told with many an embellishment, and was truly affecting to one who didn't know the truth of the matter. But that latter commodity having come to the surface, the pith is entirely knocked out of the romance.

On the strength of these stories Shay became acquainted with a young lady who was employed in her guardian's business establishment, on Summit street, and in a short time they were affianced. He had, after receiving notice from a Philadelphia lawyer concerning his fortune, put his affairs in the hands of a well known Toledo legal firm, and they being unable to attend to them, they were turned over to another legal gentleman, who made out his will which left a large sum to his affianced wife, and a handsome legacy to her guardian. Then the aforesaid guardian received a letter telling him to hurry up Shay's nuptials by lending him money, as one Thomas was attempting to force him into an alliance with his daughter. The money was forthcoming, the more readily, especially, as Shay asserted that he would receive a large amount within thirty days. The young "millionaire" and his affianced were married, and now they are once more brought to public notice by the arrest of Shay, charged with fabricating this entire story about the fortune, &c., for the purpose of swindling some one, and more especially for obtaining in this manner that $36 with which he purchased his wedding outfit.

The case came up for examination in the Police Court Saturday, but was continued. Meantime Shay is locked up at the Central Station.—Toledo Commercial, 2d.

THE Washington Chronicle, in an outburst of true inwardness, makes the profound observation that "plagiarism is not originality." We have often indulged in a similar reflection whilst perusing the columns of that paper.

THE editor of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat prints some personal recollections of ex-President JOHNSON, saying that one evening he spent several hours in his company, "and got the material for an excellent letter." Then why didn't he publish it?

ACCORDING to TALLEYRAND the most politic of political speeches are those which are never delivered. This bit of philosophical wisdom escaped the recollection of Senator THURMAN, or he never would have delivered that ingenious excuse for an indefensible piece of cowardice, last Saturday.

THERE are too many weather prophets. Besides Old Probs., who has the public ear every where, here is a fellow named CAPEN, foretelling "a convulsive earthquake period" during the first week in August, and TICE predicting perturbations on the fifth of this month. They had better turn their attention to something else.

THE fifteenth annual meeting of the National Educational Association is in session at Minneapolis, Minn. Professor GEO. P. HAYS, of Washington and Jefferson College, Washington county, is President of the Department of Education, and Rev. Dr. LITTINGER, of Sewickley, will to-day deliver an address on the important subject of "The Relation and Duties of Educators to Crime." There is a large attendance.

"EPHRAIM is joined to his idols; let him alone." Kentucky remains just where the war left her, in the hands of the Bourbons. The Republican vote is largely increased; but the Democrats maintain their ascendency. "Blessed am dey what do not expect nuffing; for dey ain't gwine to be disappinted." The Republicans can console themselves with this quaint bit of African philosophy. They didn't expect any other result; and are not, therefore, disappointed.

THE rain-fall for July, at this point, was 5.27 inches, which is not large, although a little above the average. It is not, consequently, the amount of rain-fall that is complained of, so much as the continuousness of it. Every day in the month was cloudy, there having been not one perfectly clear day, and rain fell upon nineteen of the thirty-one days. The rain-fall elsewhere throughout the West has been much heavier than here, the total running up to over eight inches at several points of observation.

THE new International Courts of Egypt have been formally opened with appropriate ceremonies. While the establishment of these tribunals relieves the Khedive from a vast amount of trouble, they are also likely to prove of great service to the merchants, bankers and traders of Egypt, insuring speedy and inexpensive settlement of all causes to which they are parties, henceforth to be judged by regular tribunals on the basis of a settled code. The American members of these courts are Judge BARRINGER, of North Carolina, and Judge [illegible]

THE Richmond Whig has an article on "Some of the peculiarities that Virginia has lost." Her tendency to repudiation is certainly not one of them, as the following extract from the Lynchburg Republican will show:

> Those who are raising all the clamor on the subject dare not avow themselves in favor of repudiation, but take refuge behind the lame pretence that they only desire a "compromise" or "readjustment." What the character of the compromise is may be inferred from a remark we heard one of their leaders make, that "he was willing to pay all that he believed the State owed, even if it amounted to as much as one, one and a half, or two per cent. of the whole debt."

A CORRESPONDENT of the Baltimore Gazette, a strong Democratic paper, traveling in Ohio and writing from Columbus, throws up the sponge and concedes Ohio to the Republicans. He says that ALLEN had only 800 majority in 1873, while 10,000 Liberal votes were thrown away on COLLINS; that these 10,000 votes will now go to HAYES, together with 25,000 Republican votes not polled in 1873, while the Democrats have no allies to help them make up for their losses. "At a safe estimate," he says, "HAYES will have 15,000 over ALLEN in 1875. These are melancholy facts, but they are facts that you can't shut your eyes to."

THE opening of the Republican campaign in Ohio, at Marion, Lawrence county, on July 31, was a grand demonstration. Marion is a small country town, in an out-of-the-way place; but the crowd was immense and the enthusiasm great. Notwithstanding the heavy rains and the almost impassable condition of the roads, the sturdy farmers, leaving their only partially harvested crops, came pouring in, some in wagons, some on horseback, and some on foot. The crowd in attendance could not have been less than 10,000, and it would have been twice that had it not been for the weather. ALLEN and CARY's meeting, at the same place, a week earlier, was attended by 206 people, all told!

THE attitude of THURMAN in Ohio politics is pitiable. He carries the brains of the party under his hat, but the party will not be guided by him. Spurned by his political friends, on one hand, and spurning them on the other, he supports no one and is supported by no one. The party has permitted him to say his feeble and contradictory say, but they will not allow him any further privileges. His Mansfield speech was his opening and closing effort in this campaign, and it was neither a declaration of independence nor an act of submission. Had it been either the world might have respected him more and pitied him less. He merely proclaimed himself a party slave, but one who was unwilling to bear his master's burden.

THE Pottsville Miners' Journal comes to us in mourning for the death of its founder, BENJAMIN BANNAN. He was one of the most active men in editorial life we ever knew, and he became, by close attention to the details of the anthracite coal trade, an authority upon all questions connected therewith. He was a nervous, energetic writer, and very thorough and earnest in his convictions. We met him first in 1856, when he took a strong hold of the then young Republican movement, and we have found him, ever since, a conscientious, able and efficient worker in the Republican cause. He was very highly respected, as a man, by all who knew him, and his death is sincerely regretted.

THE footings of the Government expenditures for the last fiscal year have just been published. Exclusive of the sinking fund requirement these expenses are, in round numbers, $274,500,000. In his annual report to Congress in December last, Secretary BRISTOW estimated the ordinary expenses for the year at $275,314,000. The Washington correspondent of the New York Times says this estimate is the closest approach to the actual expenses ever made. General GARFIELD, Chairman of the House Committee on Appropriations, in his speech on the budget a year and a half before the close of the fiscal year, six months before that year began, estimated the total expenditures at $270,000,000. This is a good deal nearer than GLADSTONE usually came in his estimates so far in advance. The receipts from miscellaneous sources have not yet been ascertained, but it is thought that they will aggregate at least $23,000,000. It is now certain that the excess of receipts over expenditures for the last fiscal year will be at least $15,000,000, and may reach $17,000,000. In the fiscal year ended June 30, 1874, the excess of receipts was $2,344,000.

ASSISTANT DEMOCRATS.

The political temperance men should drop their distinctive title and assume that of Brevet Democrats. They have abandoned the work of promoting the cause of temperance in a legitimate way, and assumed that of jackals to the Democratic beast. Instead of endeavoring to convince people that intemperance is wrong, they are working industriously to defame and misrepresent Governor HARTRANFT; and instead of striving to make a public sentiment in favor of sobriety, they are devoting themselves to the task of squirting political mud at one of the purest and best Governors that Pennsylvania has ever had.

Three years ago the work of lying about Gen. HARTRANFT was taken up and persistently pursued by the Democrats; but subsequent experience has shown them that they were wrong; and now they scorn to join in defaming a man who has filled the chief place in the State with honor to himself and with credit to the Commonwealth. To repeat that abusive campaign is too mean a job, even for them; but it does not seem to be beneath the conceptions of a few volunteer calumniators in the Prohibition ranks, who have taken up the discarded weapons of the Democracy, and have undertaken to help the Democratic party in a way which that party itself is too manly to pursue.

The sole reason given for these indecent attacks upon a man whose character stands so high that it challenges the admiration of his Democratic opponents, is that he refused to veto the bill to repeal the Local Option law. That is his one offense in their eyes, and for the purpose of punishing him for that, they have assumed the task of personal abuse, and fastened themselves as a bob to the Democratic kite.

And what would have been the result, with them, if he had vetoed that bill? Would they have supported him in consequence? Why, then, did they not support Colonel BEATH last year? He was a temperance man of the first water. He had given the best years of his life to the temperance cause. He was an active and consistent member of an active temperance organization, and he had, by his labors and by his enterprise, assisted in building up a temperance sentiment in the State and in otherwise promoting temperance principles. Yet these political temperance men refused to vote for him. They had a separate State ticket of their own, and they took off enough votes, by their separate action, to defeat him.

They had but one excuse for this: and that was that Col. BEATH was a Republican. He did not belong to their separate party. They admitted that he was as good a temperance man as their own candidate; but he did not utter their shibboleth in their way.

If, then, they could not (as they did not) support Colonel BEATH, a man who was open to no objection whatever, upon any grounds, moral or otherwise, how could they support Governor HARTRANFT, even if he had done all they asked him to do? They certainly could not, consistently with their course toward Colonel BEATH; and it is just as certain that they would not. They would have praised him for his action, and would have accepted this sacrifice of himself for their sakes; but they would no more have supported him for re-election than they did Colonel BEATH. If they coolly cut the throat of one of their own men, because he did not train with them, they would have been as unsparing towards one who has not held that intimate relation with them. HARTRANFT could, in no event, have fared better than BEATH.

Since, then, they would have opposed him, in any event, it is the merest mockery to say that they oppose him, now, because he failed to veto the repeal of local option. The only true excuse they have for maintaining a separate political existence reaches far beyond, back of and independent of, this mere incident of legislative action, and they would be as busy to-day, in maintaining that separate existence, if Gov. HARTRANFT had done what they wished him to do, as they are since he refused to do it. Let them, then, stand by their flag on its true ground. The repeal or the non-repeal of local option has nothing to do with it except as an incident of a controversy of which it forms but a small part.

The character of these political mud-slingers is beyond their reach. It stands too high to be affected by their assaults. The Democrats found that out, and gave up the bootless task; and the cast off clothes of the Democracy do not sit well upon those who have donned the filthy habiliments. We comprehend their zeal for the Democracy and their anxiety to help that party to a victory, which is manifested by the eagerness with which they have undertaken to form a skirmish line for the Democratic army; but we can tell them of a much surer way to gratify their vindictiveness: join the Democratic party outright. Their votes will count faster, in that connection, than they will separately, and will therefore be more efficient; and it is barely possible that, by contact with the Democrats, they might learn to behave with some show of political decency.

THE SINKING FUND.

The monthly meeting of the Sinking Fund Commissioners of this State, held on Monday last, demonstrated the truth of what we stated, when commenting upon the partisan report of the House Committee upon the affairs of the State Treasury, that the call made by the Commissioners on the 1st of May last for the presentation of the overdue bonds of the State for redemption was sufficient to absorb the bulk of the balance in the sinking fund at the date of that call. The balance in that fund on May 1, was $1,427,497; and the Commissioners then, as required by law, notified the holders of bonds subject to redemption to present them for payment, and that interest would cease thereon after August 1. The sum of $432,500 was paid off in May; $59,250 in June; and a sum sufficiently large in July (including the interest on the public debt due August 1), to reduce the balance in the sinking fund to $435,533 on August 1. The Commissioners, in view of these facts, called for the presentation of $508,018 more of the public debt, during the ensuing three months; and this, together with the amount previously called for, will exhaust the sinking fund and its probable receipts during the next quarter. If an empty Treasury will do any good, the prospect for attaining it is certainly very encouraging.

The lie has thus been effectually given to the Democratic Committee, who tried to create the impression that there was no effort made by the Treasury officials to apply the sinking fund to its legal purpose. If it is asked why this was not done before, the answer is to be found in the fact that the Commissioners could not anticipate the maturity of the State bonds and pay them off before they were due. They have met them, as they matured, and redeemed them; they had no power, legally, to do more, and could not legally have done less.

The State debt of Pennsylvania is now being paid off more rapidly than that of any State in the Union. The Republicans have reduced it from forty millions, a total which it reached through Democratic extravagance and corruption, to twenty-three millions; and as it is going down at the rate of a million and a half a year, fifteen years hence will witness its entire extinction. No other party in this country can present such a record as that.

THE New York Times of Monday publishes a carefully prepared set of tables showing the results of the late attempt to take the census of that city, and illustrating the various stages of its growth in population, wealth, and public burdens during the last sixty-five years. From these it appears that while twenty years ago the taxes levied in New York amounted to but $9 28 per head of the population, they amount this year to $31 56 per head, and that the ratio of debt per head of the population has risen from $23 87 in 1855, to $111 21 in 1875. The Times says every obstacle was thrown in its way, and every effort was made by those having charge of the returns, even to bullying and insult, to prevent anybody save the Tammany leaders and their favorites from seeing the figures; adding, very pertinently: "The mere denial of access to documents that are public in their nature is prima facie evidence of an intent to commit some rascality." The same paper says, further:

> The Democratic organs may bluster as they please about a million and a half of people on this island, but they are not here. Doubtless there may have been many persons omitted, possibly there are many put in who were never seen or heard of at all. The bottom fact is that after years of howling about Republicans cheating New York of her due political power, and having at last the entire control of the taking of the census, keeping the people in the dark, and fixing returns at their own will, the Democratic leaders confess that they cannot find a million residents in the city without reckoning in the recently annexed wards across Harlem river. What the finally declared result will be, after the doctoring business is finished, no one can guess; but if the aggregate is over 1,050,000 every added one will be a fraud.

THE quick conviction and severe punishment of Col. BAKER, in the English courts, for an indecent assault upon a young lady in a railroad car, is a strong testimonial in favor of the promptness and impartiality of the English courts. There was no time lost in bringing him to trial, and his sentence is commensurate with his crime. His high social position and his intimacy with the Prince of Wales did not serve him. The court treated him as it would any other culprit, without regard to any external considerations whatever.

We wish our American courts could learn this lesson of promptness in disposing of such cases. In New York, this man BAKER, backed up by wealth and social position, would never have been brought to trial at all; and in most of the other States the trial would have lingered, though postponements or dilatory motions, until the public ceased to feel any interest in it. We are not able to say in what particular the English system differs from ours, in its capacity to bring offenders to book at once; but there is something admirable in its promptness, and something exceedingly wholesome in the effects produced by the certainty which the public is thereby led to feel that justice will be administered thoroughly and without delay.

THE political temperance men, who have volunteerily taken up what the Democrats have abandoned, the work of abusing Governor HARTRANFT, charge upon him as an offense that he did not vote the Republican ticket until the war was over. But then, he did not stay at home during the war, as most of his traducers did. He went into the service of the Union when the war broke out, and fought through it bravely and manfully; and if he went into it a Democrat, he came out of it a Republican. He earned his right to be a Republican by four years of exposure to Rebel bullets; and if the experience of the war taught him the error of his previous political convictions, it had a much more beneficial effect upon him than it has had upon them, who can now, fourteen years after the war began, throw it up as a reproach to him that he did not discover his error sooner. He has one other advantage over them, also; he is a Republican now, while they are doing the dirty work of scullions in the Democratic kitchen, and contributing all they can to Democratic success.

PERSONAL.

Colonel Truman Lamson, who has just died at Bennington, Vermont, at the age of eighty years, was, half a century ago, the most celebrated shot in America, and was the originator of the present system of rifling guns.

The report that the dead body of Donaldson had been seen floating in Lake Michigan, just off Chicago, was erroneous. A dead body was found, but it was that of a fisherman. The fate of the missing balloonists still remains wrapped in mystery.

An elderly lady named Cannon, of Massachusetts, was standing by an iron sink during a thunder storm, when she was prostrated by lightning. She was entirely senseless, and was so charged and battered by the electric current that the gold beads about her neck were melted; but she lives, and ascribes her escape to the silken cap she wore. Had it been a percussion one, she would doubtless have gone off.

There is a little girl at Newbury, Mass., who, though only three years old, has still had an eventful life. She was born on board ship in the Pacific ocean, when she was three days old her mother died, and four days after that, the ship was wrecked, and the crew were in an open boat for ten days, the baby, meantime, being kept alive on biscuit, soaked in water. When they were picked up, they were taken to England, and finally reached this country.

We recently mentioned the fact that a young Englishman named Harcourt, said to be a scion of nobility, but who has been a resident of this country some sixteen years, lately married a colored girl in Baltimore. The act, it seems, has created such a feeling that whenever he appeas on the street with his wife he is followed by a mob and insulted grossly. The other day he was arrested (though what for remains a mystery) and compelled to give bonds to "keep the peace." He declares that he will walk on the streets with his wife when he pleases, and calls upon the United States authorities to protect him. The most agonizing part of this business is the fact that the young man is an ex-Confederate officer, and for some time served as commander of the famous Louisiana Tigers.

The late President Johnson's domestic relatians were by no means as conducive to happiness as might have been desired. His sons, Charles and Robert, both deceased, were somewhat irregular in their habits, and were the occasion of much grief and sometimes shame to their father. Charles was thrown from his horse about the beginning of the war and was killed. Robert became very dissipated, and was at one time in an inebriate asylum. He died some years since. Andrew Johnson, Jr., is one of the proprietors of the Greenville Intelligence, and is said to be quite dissipated. The daughters are noble women, and were the joy of the old man's life. Mrs. Brown, better known as Mrs. Stover, married her present husband some two years ago, and lives on a magnificent farm of 800 or 900 acres, beautifully situated about forty miles from Greenville, on the Wautauga river. Mr. Johnson has been with this daughter most of the time since January last. Mrs. Judge Patterson, who was mistress of the White House during Mr. Johnson's administration, lives at Henderson, six miles from Greenville.

The Key-Note of Health.

The health and vigor of the several organs of the body depend upon the simple condition that the functions which pertain to each shall be regularly and actively performed. If vitality is sluggish or deficient, this condition is not properly fulfilled, and as a consequence disease is soon inaugurated. Prevent it by a timely use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which rouse the vital energies when dormant and endow the feeble frame with needful stamina. At the same time that the Bitters infuse new strength into the system, they correct those functional irregularities and local weaknesses which sap the vital power. Dyspepsia, bladder and kidney complaints, gout, rheumatism, fever and ague, biliousness, constipation and nervous diseases are invariably overcome by the operation of this standard alterative tonic.

E. F. Kunkel's Bitter Wine of Iron.

Do you want to get rid of nervousness?
Do you want energy?
Do you want to sleep well?
Do you want to build up your constitution?

I only ask a trial of this valuable tonic!

Beware of counterfeits, as Kunkel's Bitter Wine of Iron is the only sure and effectual remedy in the known world for the permanent cure of Dyspepsia and Debility, and as there are a number of imitations offered to the public, I caution the community to purchase none but the genuine article, manufactured by E. F. Kunkel, and having his stamp on the cork of every bottle. The very fact that others are attempting to imitate this valuable remedy, proves its worth and speaks volumes in its favor. PITTSBURGH Commercial,

A Political, Literary, Commercial and General Newspaper,

DEVOTED TO THE Best Interests of the People!

IN POLITICS.

The COMMERCIAL will hereafter, as heretofore, be devoted to the support of Republican principles, maintaining its independence within the Republican Party, and claiming the right at all times to speak freely and fearlessly on the merits of men and measures. Party government is essential to a constitutional country, and journals claiming to be independent of party are usually also independent of principle. Faithful to the great convictions and aims upon which the Republican Party was based, it is the mouthpiece of no clique or faction, supporting the party solely because it believes that party is founded on principles of Right and Justice.

THE EDITORIAL DEPARTMENT

Of the COMMERCIAL will contain, from day to day contributions from able writers upon all subjects—Political, Literary, Scientific, Legal, Commercial, Foreign and Local—in which the views of the COMMERCIAL will be set forth plainly and independently, keeping in view the prime aim of the paper, which is the advancement of the best interests of all sections of the country.

THE MARKETS

Will, as heretofore, receive careful attention. Full telegraphic reports of the State of Business, with Prices Current, will be received daily from the Trade Centers of this country and Europe. The Pittsburgh Market, in all its branches, will be reported fully and accurately. As a commercial journal the COMMERCIAL stands second to no paper in the country. The Financial Column will give the daily ruling rates for money, and the prices of Stocks and Bonds at all the great trading points, with much interesting statistical matter.

INTERESTING MISCELLANY,

Embracing Poems, Sketches, Incidents of Travel, etc., will find a place in the columns of the COMMERCIAL, furnishing abundance of instruction and amusement for the family circle.

ITS NEWS DEPARTMENTS

Will always contain brief but accurate reports of all the occurrences of the day. Liberal expenditures will be made in securing special telegrams and correspondence from the great news centers of the country, so that readers of the COMMERCIAL can always rely on being served with early and reliable news.

In the department devoted to the publication of Local News will be found a complete daily history of the occurrences of the city, prepared by a corps of careful writers and set forth in attractive style.

MEDICAL.

THE GREAT
ENGLISH REMEDY!
The Cordial Balm of Syricum and Tonic Pills.
NERVOUS DEBILITY.
However obscure the cause may be which contribute to render nervous debility a disease so prevalent, affecting, as it does, nearly one-half of our adult population, it is a melancholy fact that day by day, and year by year, we witness a most frightful increase of nervous affections from the slightest neuralgia to the more grave and extreme forms of
NERVOUS PROSTRATION.
Is characterized by a general languor or weakness of the whole organism, especially of the nervous system, obstructing and preventing the ordinary functions of nature; hence there is a disordered state of the secretions; constipation, scanty and high-colored urine, with an excess of earthy or limey sediment, indicative of waste of brain and nerve substance, frequent palpitations of the heart, loss of memory, and marked irresolution of purpose, and inability to carry into action any well defined business enterprise, or to fix the mind upon any one thing at a time. There is great sensitiveness to impress, though retained but a short time, with a flickering and fluttering condition of the mental faculties, rendering an individual what is commonly called a whiffle-minded, or fickle-minded man.
This condition of the individual, distressing as it is, may, with a certainty, be cured by
THE CORDIAL BALM OF SYRICUM AND LOTHROP'S TONIC PILLS.
Medicines unrivalled for their wonderful properties and remarkable cures of all Nervous Complaints. Their efficacy is equally great in the treatment and cure of Cancers, Nodes, Ulcers, Pustule, Pimples, Tetter, Fever Sores, Ringworm, Erysipelas, Scaldhead, Barbers' Itch, Scurvy, Salt Rheum, Copper-Colored Blotches, Glandular Swelling, Worms and Black Spots in the Flesh, Discolorations, Ulcers in the Throat, Mouth and Nose, Sore Legs, and sores of every character, because these medicines are the very best
BLOOD MEDICINE
Ever placed before the people, and are warranted to be the most Powerful Alterative ever originated by man, removing Morbid Sensibility, Depression of Spirits, Dementia, and Melancholia.
Each package of the Cordial Balm contains one box of the Tonic Pills, which may also be had separately at 50 cents per box.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

TUESDAY EVENING, August 3, 1875.

The condition of the Pittsburgh money arket, as reported by the brokers, is one which it is difficult to negotiate any pa- r. Among the banks the report is money oderately easy, although not much doing the way of discounts, except to regular stomers.

—The long looked for rise in the river as come in proportions although too reat for the comfort or safety of those ho have property afloat. However, nearly ll the coal had already been shipped to he lower river markets, so that the damge done cannot be as great as if the flood ad come a week ago. The large quantity f coal that has gone below must ease the emand for money that is felt from that ranch of trade, and coal operators who annot, after they have made sales below, how money or commercial paper enough o pay their debts, are in no condition to sk or receive favors from the banks in fuure.

We are gradually nearing the close of the summer business, and the approaching autumn flood can scarcely fail to bring upon its tide accelerated movement throughout all branches of business.

—Stocks of all kinds of merchandise in the interior are believed to be drawn down unusually low and they will soon need replenishing. With the results of the harvest in hand, the great consuming agricultural population will be more ready buyers.

These classes, with all other interests, have practiced for the past two years unusual economy, but wearing apparel, farming implements, railroad material and equipments and machinery of all kinds cannot be made to last forever, and the time seems to be at hand when a more active movement in all these may confidently be looked for.

This matter of economy, when properly understood and acted on, is a good thing, yet even it can be overdone to the detriment of the individual as well as of the public.

There are but few words in the vernacular so badly understood as this, and the Chicago Inter-Ocean seems to know what it is talking about when it says:

"Economy, economy!" "That's what is going to bring us out of the present trouble. That's what is going to bring us to specie payments and put a gold dollar in every man's pocket instead of a depreciated paper one"—and a lot more of such twaddle.

But we think there was never a greater delusion than the notion so often expressed that the economy of living is increasing the wealth of the country. To illustrate this, let us suppose that the 8,000,000 of families in the United States so economize their expenditures in the next year that the entire cost of living shall be $50 less in each case. This would seem to be an addition of $400,000,000 to the nation's wealth. But is it so? Let us see. The only way that a family can save $50 is by consuming that much less of something. It may be in food, or clothing, or in luxuries; but in whatever it is, it diminishes the sale or hire of these articles by that amount, and if it diminishes the demand for these articles, the loss must fall somewhere. Let us suppose, for instance, that this $400,000,000 of imaginary saving were made by the consumption of less tobacco and the diminished use of carriages and horses. Would not the loss fall on the tobacco growers and manufacturers, and on the livery stable men, the carriage manufacturers and all their army of workmen and employees, and would not all the proprietors in these lines of business fail, and would not the cessation of demand for the articles used in making carriages effect other business interests and make losses in an endless variety of ways? Or let us suppose the economy is in the use of coffee. Would it not cause immense failures in that trade in various parts of the world, and the effect of these failures be reflected upon our own country in the loss of trade with those parts of the world? Or let us suppose it is in the use of lumber. Would not the surplus stock of lumber in this country be so reduced that those who had paid for the labor to manufacture the lumber be ruined, and would not all their employees be idle until the surplus stock was used up? The fact is, that the diminished demand for anything which custom has brought into general use must diminish the demand for labor, and thus the loss in this economy falls heaviest at last on the laborer, but from him is reflected on the retail trader, and from him again to the wholesaler, and so on around in an endless succession of reflections until it has produced general depression in industry and trade.

—The New York Herald, which by no means approves of the continued attempts made to bolster up English at the expense of American credit, makes the following good point on the subject. It says:

This constant tendency to hold up everything English as honest and to imply that everything American is tainted is unjust and cruel. We are no better and no worse than the English. We have merchants who deal honestly with the people, and we have others who, by excessive speculation, or by foolish ventures, or by miscalculation, fall into bankruptcy and embarrassment. If we have corruption in our politics we have only to turn to the debates in Parliament to find the existence of corruption in English boroughs a source of the gravest concern to the minds of honest statesmen. There is just as much reason to look with suspicion upon English houses, and even upon English banks like the Union Bank, as there is to question the integrity and soundness of our leading houses in New York.

OFFICE OF TRASK & STONE,
BANKERS AND BROKERS, NO. 7 NEW STREET,
NEW YORK, August 2, 1875.

To the Editor of the Pittsburgh Commercial:

The week opens with a very dull and uninteresting market, first prices indicating a marked disposition to lower prices.

Inasmuch as prices are left entirely to the manipulations of brokers, fluctuations have been frequent but not of great moment.

Occasional spurts have attracted a few outside operators, and some of the shorts left from last week's operations were disposed to cover on the first rally this morning, but the market shows no positive signs of activity nor of further improvement, and those who are not leaving the market entirely to itself are inclined toward lower prices.

The tension of last week has exhausted itself, and we cannot but realize that the rapid reaction from panic prices and subsequent improvement therein was too ephemeral to last over a week.

Further reports of the floods in the West affect in some degree all railroad shares, and Ohio and Mississippi stock, which was heavy last week from other causes, was heavier to-day by reason of these reports.

We have, however, to warn our correspondents that the daily manipulations of our stock market are still under a "one man power," who, despite natural causes, may produce very unnatural results.

Yours truly,

TRASK & STONE.

GENERAL MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL,
TUESDAY, August 3, 1875.

The tone of mercantile transactions to-day was, with one or two exceptions, rather quiet, and business was inactive. The exceptions were in wheat and flour, which in connection with the irregular and excited markets in the West, evoked considerable interest, although owing to limited stocks here, transactions were not large. Prices of corn and oats are higher; in wheat there is an almost entire absence of stock, and an indisposition of both buyers and sellers to enter the market until affairs become more settled. Hay is also firmer and about $1 00 higher. In country produce there was not very much done; no freight arrived by the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad owing to the high water in the Youghiogheny river, and this decreased the offerings of fresh fruits and vegetables very materially. There was a rather easier feeling in butter, and sweet potatoes showed a decline of about $1 00 per barrel. In groceries there was somewhat more doing, though not enough to produce any degree of activity. Sugars are a little easier although sales were still made at previously quoted prices. Provisions were active, with a steady feeling. Petroleum was quiet at somewhat firmer prices both for crude and refined. The rains have also had a very unfavorable effect on the growing broom corn and to-day the feeling was excited by reports from some of the principal producing points, that the crop was drowned out; green could not be bought for less than 12¼@14c.

The effect of the rains on the growing crops is the general topic of comment in business circles, and as reports come in, a more accurate idea of the damage can be formed which is not quite so alarming as seemed to be the case at first. The reports received so far, agree in ascribing a very heavy and wide-spread damage to the winter wheat crop. How far this will affect prices, is of course largely a matter of conjecture as yet. The wheat crop of the United States in 1874 was 300,000,000 bushels; and before the rains that of 1875 was estimated upon reliable data at 250,000,000 bushels. Of this, it was estimated that 147,600,000 bushels were winter wheat, and the damage so far is confined to this crop. It is tolerably certain that the surplus for the coming season will be very much reduced; that new winter wheat of a good quality will be scarce and that the supply will consist largely of damaged winter wheat and spring wheat, in which as a compensation for the loss in winter, there is yet reason to hope for a very large yield. There will not probably be any scarcity of winter wheat, as the surplus of last year's stock is large; but the reduction of the supply will probably preclude a return to the low prices ruling during the past year. The damage to oats will, it appears, consist principally in lowering the quality, and with the large acreage, a very heavy supply of No. 2 and mixed oats is expected, on the hypothesis that the rains are over. Corn is not materially damaged, and the indications are favorable for an largely increased crop. Broom corn has been damaged somewhat, and the result is shown in sharply advancing prices. Hay was nearly all harvested in the principal producing districts, in time to escape material damage. Barley is considerably injured. The amount of damage done, estimated in dollars and cents is of course mere matter of conjecture as yet, but it will be counted by millions. The effect must be unfavorable on trade, and will hinder the revival of business which was expected to be caused this fall by the prosperity of the farmers, and the existence of a large surplus of wheat for export.

The receipts of the leading articles of produce in this city since our last are as follows:

Flour, bbls	2,730	Corn, bus	675
Cheese, bxs	63	Butter, pkgs	20
Oats, bus	1,672	Potatoes, bus	145
Bacon, pcs	7,510	Rye, bush	[illegible]
Wheat, bus	955	Bacon, tcs	115
Apples, bbls	152

The quotations given in the following reports are prices realized in wholesale transactions, unless otherwise specified. On small sales, dealers will charge an advance. Prices of grain, unless stated to the contrary, are free of elevator.

Grain, Flour and Feed.

GRAIN—There was considerable interest in the grain market to-day, consequent upon the excited and irregular tone and wide fluctuations of the Chicago market. This interest was especially manifested in wheat, which during the early part of the day steadily advanced in Chicago, registering its highest point in the recent rise at $1 23 about eleven o'clock. The afternoon dispatches showed that a downward turn had been taken, and before the close a decline of 4@5c was made. The market here was nominal, and indeed quotations at all the leading points are in a somewhat mixed condition. Yesterday and to-day the anomalous circumstance was presented of wheat being quoted at such supply points as Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Toledo at $1 45@1 50, while at the seaboard, Philadelphia and Baltimore quote at $1 40. We note a sale here of a half car amber wheat in sacks at $1 40. We quote choice Kentucky and Michigan white winter wheat nominally at $1 50@1 53 per bushel; Ohio and Illinois do $1 48@1 50; Ohio and Illinois amber $1 45@1 47; Ohio and Pennsylvania red winter $1 40@1 43; spring wheat is steady, No. 2 Chicago ruling at $1 35@1 38. Corn was in exceedingly light supply, and some demand having been made, prices showed a sharp upward turn. The advance in oats was also an elevating influence. Some sales of shelled in a jobbing way were reported at 85@86c, but these were above the market range. We noted sales of 1 car shelled corn yellow, at 85c; 1 car do. at 81c; 1 car do., high-mixed, at 81c; 1 car ear corn at 77c; 1 car do. at 77c; 1 car do. at 79c. We quoted shelled at 83@84c for yellow; 80@83c for high and low mixed. The demand for ear was not so marked, and the advance was not strong. We quote at 79@80c for prime yellow, with the outside price hard to get; 76@78c for mixed. Oats were scarce and higher, with a sharp demand. We heard of sales of 1 car mixed at 60c; 2 cars white at 62c. Quotations were at 62@63c for white; 60@61c for mixed. Rye was quiet and steady with a fair inquiry at $1 10@1 12. Jobbing prices of corn and oats ruled 3@4c above these quotations.

FLOUR—The market was considerably excited to-day and there was a brisk demand, both for round lots and in a jobbing way, at firm prices. Receipts continue liberal and trade is active. We note sales of 100 barrels red wheat flour at $6 50; 100 barrels do at $6 75; 100 barrels do at 6 75. We quote the wholesale prices of the local millers as follows: No. 1 white wheat flour $7 70@7 85 ₱ bbl; No. 1 amber do $7 00@7 15; red wheat flour $6 70; in sacks 25c off ₱ bbl. We quote prime timothy, on track, at $22 00@25 00 ₱ ton; No. 2, $20 00@21 00; upland prairie nominally $16 00@18 00. Sales from store were steady at $24 00@25 00. Loose hay is selling at $27 00@30 00 for No. 1; $23 00@26 00 for No. 2.

The feeling continued to take an upward tendency, although buyers operated cautiously. There was not much oil offering, with considerable inquiry for prices. The afternoon closed at about the following quotations: Conduit at wells, 85@87½c; United do 83¼@85c; Union and Pennsylvania do 81¾@82½c; immediate shipment, irrespective of pipe, $1 10@1 12½, free on board. Hogs, owing to the light run, are a shade better than last week, and meet with ready sale at annexed prices. Sheep are stronger than last week, and good grades are 5@8c better; common to medium same as last week. No change in the price of cows and calves.

A REWARD of $50 is offered for the recovery of each of the four men drowned at Burlington last week.

CAPTAIN L. E. FORSYTH, an old time steamboat agent, well known in these parts, is on a visit to St. Louis.

THE fearless and barges are all ready and will depart for St. Louis as soon as the water falls to reasonably size.

THE W. D. Smith angle wheel steamer is such a favorite at St. Louis that even the Marshal has taken a fancy to her.

THE towboat Tom Rees No. 2 broke her steam pipe. No person was injured. She will be towed up by the Oakland.

THE James D. Parker, which left Memphis for Cincinnati, has the following freight for this city: To order, 25 bales of cotton.

THE oldest inhabitants scratch their heads in vain to discover another year of rises like this. Take July and August, for example.

THE marks last evening indicated twenty-one feet six inches and about a stand; it would probably be falling by this morning.

THE steamer Rosa Miller is laid up at Sewickley until the water falls. Captain Woodburn has no idea of having the pretty Rosa abused.

THE favorite passenger packet John L. Rhoads, Captain Vandergritt, is receiving for St. Louis, and will have dispatch as usual.

THE steamer Granite State, Captain Kerr, will arrive on time and take her departure as usual for Portsmouth and intermediate ports.

PHOTOGRAPHS of the steamers United States and Ben Franklin have been taken, to comprise part of an Ohio river scene at Cincinnati, for a stereopticon exhibition of scenes in the United States, which will soon be exhibited throughout the country.

THE new and pretty steamer Rosa Miller, Captain John Woodburn, is receiving for Memphis, Pine Bluff, Little Rock and Fort Smith. Passengers and shippers can rely on her going through. Our clever friend T. J. Darragh is in charge in the office.

CINCINNATI.—I. G. Walker, Naval Secretary, has forwarded appointments to the gentlemen named, as officers of the light house tender, Lily, the appointments to date from the 14th of July: Oscar B. Jolly, master; Sidney W. Milner, mate; Thomas Cook, engineer.

THE mail packets on the slackwater will resume operations as soon as the water will permit. The repair to the Elector are nearly completed. Superintendent Abrams says that the cost of repairs will not exceed five hundred dollars. We are glad to hear of the company getting off so light.

AT St. Louis on Sunday the carpenter of the City of Alton was robbed of the only suit of clothes he had on the boat. After making the discovery of the loss he laid abed and screamed for somebody to lend him at least a fifteen cent collar that he might go out in search of his clothes. Up to a late hour nothing had been heard of the attire.

A ST. LOUIS dispatch says: There are new efforts making to start a joint stock company of steamboats to run between this port and New Orleans. Of course Mr. John M. Scudder will be selected as the administrator of such a line, and with such a head there is no knowing what might be done for the advancement of the river interests between this and the Crescent City.

HARD ON CHICAGO.—The St. Louis Globe-Democrat says: Captain Wm. Thorwegan has been up to a small watering place on Lake Michigan called Chicago, for a short time. He speaks very highly of the place, and advises his friends who would like to spend a few weeks out of the noise and bustle of a city, to go there, and further says the taverns are well kept, but charges like all watering places.

THE Meigs County (O.) News says: Captain Halliday desires us to say to friends in this place that he has never refused to pay our wharf charges, as they are reasonable. The matter of entering protest here, was because by exorbitant charges elsewhere, he was compelled to protest against all. He proposes to pay reasonable wharfage, but will not be imposed upon. "Correct."

A SHAWNEETOWN dispatch of Saturday says: From the reports of rain elsewhere we are satisfied that the entire Ohio river and Wabash bottom crops will be swept away, which will work great hardship among the farmers, as a great many have all the means they have and could raise invested. The wheat crop is almost entirely ruined; hay the same. The corn on the hills won't make over half a crop and on the lowlands nothing.

THE boat lock now being constructed at Hoard's Rocks is pronounced by competent judges to be the best and finest piece of work in the United States. The inside wall (that next the river bank) is almost completed and work has already commenced on the outside wall. The lock will be over 200 feet in length and 50 feet in width, and will be completed by the 1st of December next.

The stone dam will be built next summer, and two years hence we expect to have slackwater from Pittsburgh to Morgantown.—Morgantown Post.

BIG SWIMMING.—It is stated by Bell's Life that on July 3d, Matthew Webb, of the merchant service, undertook to swim from the Brunswick Pier, Blackwall, London, to the Town Pier at Gravesend. Mr. J. Baylis laying £20 to £10 against his performing the task. He started at twenty-four minutes past two o'clock, and, without touching a boat or receiving any assistance whatever, beyond a little stimulant in the shape of brandy, which he drank while in the water, reached Gravesend just before seventeen minutes past seven o'clock, the feat having occupied four hours 52 minutes 44 seconds, the distance being nearly twenty miles.

THE Burlington Hawkeye says: On a recent trip the steamer Damsel was met at the landing by the Chairman of the Wharf Committee, who intimated that if the K. & N. L. P. Company didn't come down with their wharfage, square and fair, like the Diamond Jo was doing, he would tie up some of their blamed old boats some time when they didn't want to be tied up. The Mayor was there also, and smiled approvingly as he heard the rights of the city argued by the committee as represented by the chairman. And then the Damsel pulled out without taking on a pound of freight or putting off anything except her gang-plank.

THE New Orleans Picayune of last Thursday says: General Jeff. Thompson, State Surveyor and Engineer, has just returned from an extended tour of observation through the northern section of the State. The high water above Memphis had aroused apprehensions of an overflow in Arkansas and Tennessee. General Thompson reports the water running out of the Ashton crevasse, on the Arkansas line; also out of Grand Levee crevasse. At Providence the water is three feet under high water mark. At Raleigh, in Carroll, and Milliken's Bend, in Madison parish, there is threatened danger. The work on Hard Times Levee has been completed. The crops are all in splendid condition, daily showers prevail, and an abundant harvest is expected.

THE GOVERNMENT IN EARNEST.—Some of the new mail line contractors down South may be interested in the following telegram, received from Washington Sunday night: "The Post-office Department has sent to the Department of Justice the names of thirty-nine mail contractors, to be prosecuted for failing to perform service after their bids were accepted. They will be sued for the difference between their bids and the amount paid by the Government after reletting them, which, on the thirty-nine routes for one year, amounts to four hundred and seventeen thousand and eighty-seven dollars. The Department will also bring civil suit against the contractors for damages sustained by the Government in providing temporary service after their failure to fulfill the contracts. The routes were subsequently let for four years, and should the Government recover the above amount, suits will be commenced to cover the losses for the remaining three years."

ADVERTISING.

Advertising

A

A Card to Business Men

D

A GOOD ADVERTISEMENT in a widely-circulated newspaper is the best of all possible salesmen. It is a salesman who never sleeps, and is never weary; who goes after business early and late; who accosts the merchant in his shop, the scholar in his study, the lawyer in his office, the lady at her breakfast table; who can be in a thousand places at once, and speak to thousands of people every morning, saying to each one the best thing in the best manner.

A GOOD ADVERTISEMENT insures a business connection on the most PERMANENT AND INDEPENDENT BA-

T

SIS and is, in a certain sense, a guarantee to the customer of fair and moderate prices. Experience has shown that the dealer whose wares have obtained a public celebrity is not only enabled to sell, but is forced to sell at reasonable rates, and to furnish a good article.

I

S

A vast amount of money is annually thrown away by unsuspecting dealers who are induced to patronize some one or more of the many advertising "schemes" invented for the sole purpose of making money.

N

A dealer can make no better investment than in the Advertising Columns of a largely circulating Newspaper, such as

G

The Pittsburgh Commercial.

One trial will convince the most skeptical. The COMMERCIAL circulates largely in Western Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio and West Virginia, as well as in Pittsburgh, and is read by just the class advertisers wish to reach.

CITY MATTERS.

FOR eighty-five cents per month the DAILY COMMERCIAL will be mailed daily to travelers or to subscribers who are temporarily absent from Pittsburgh. The address of the paper will be changed as often as is desired.

A Thousand Miles in a Thousand Hours.

John Jones, the Pittsburgh pedestrian, commenced the task of walking one thousand miles in one thousand hours, at Steubenville, on Saturday last. He is to walk a mile in each hour, taking his rest after the task is finished; that is, if he walks a mile in ten minutes he will have fifty minutes to sleep or rest, but he must be ready to walk another mile at the expiration of that hour. The task will occupy six weeks.

Damage by Loss of Customers.

Mr. Robert Hutchinson, instituted proceedings in slander, yesterday, in the Common Pleas No. 1, against Thomas McMichael. The plaintiff keeps a grocery store, and complains that the defendant told one of his colored customers that he was an enemy of the colored race, by reason of which he lost many of his customers and was damaged to the extent of $5,000. A capias was issued.

Letter Carriers' Report.

The following is a report of the operations of the Pittsburgh letter carriers during the month of July:

Delivered—Mail letters, 200,738; postal cards, 17,240; drop letters, 54,746; drop postal cards, 13,698; registered letters, 689; newspapers, etc., 94,358.

Collected—Mail letters, 126,534; drop letters, 26,042; postal cards, 21,128; newspapers, 17,856.

The last collection is made from street boxes at seven o'clock P. M.

Tearing up Tracks.

Yesterday E. G. Householder, resident Superintendent of the Cleveland and Pittsburgh Railroad, made information before Alderman McMaster against Peter Eckert and seven others for forcible entry and detainer. It seems that Mr. Eckert has a dispute with the company in regard to a piece of land over which the road passes at Wood's run, and it is alleged that he and the other defendants yesterday tore up the tracks. The parties were held for a hearing.

Tha Opening of Castle Shannon Camp Meeting.

The second annual meeting of the Castle Shannon Methodist Camp Meeting Association, will commence to-day in the beautiful grove at Castle Shannon. Rev. Wm. Collier, D. D., one of the oldest ministers in the connection, will preach the opening sermon at 3 o'clock P. M. There will be preaching regularly three times each day, with other religious services, until the close of the meeting. The cars leave Mount Washington nearly every hour in the day for the camp grove from 6 o'clock A. M. to 11 P. M.

Personal.

COL. H. M. BUTLER, Depot Master at the Union Depot, returned yesterday from a fishing excursion up the "Yough."

MR. ROBERT PITCAIRN, Superintendent and General Agent of the Pittsburgh division, Pennsylvania Railroad, arrived in the city from Altoona in a special car. Several other officials of this road, among whom were Mr. G. Clinton Gardner, General Superintendent, and Mr. Ely, Superintendent of motive power and machinery, arrived on the same car and are stopping at the Union Depot Hotel.

Spring Grove Camp Meeting.

The Wheeling Intelligencer, of Monday, says that Rev. Mr. Bracken, Presiding Elder of the Steubenville District, has received a letter from Dr. Dashiel, Corresponding Secretary of the Missionary Society, that Rev. Wm. Taylor—known as the "California Street Preacher"—Missionary from India, will be at Spring Grove Camp Meeting. Rev. Taylor is one of the most noted Ministers of the M. E. Church, and one of the most successful Missionaries. He is just from London where has been [illegible] Moody and Sankey. Rev. Mc-[illegible] Reilly, of Fourth Street Church, Wheeling, is expected to be present.

Horses Drowned.

About six o'clock last evening a driver of a two-horse team belonging to Mills & Co., dealers in cement, on Liberty street, drove his horses into the river near the Brownsville wharfboat, and the animals [illegible] of the lines of the boat fell and were drowned. The driver maintained his seat on the wagon until the water was up to his neck, when persons on shore threw him a rope, by means of which he was dragged ashore. Mr. Jo. Albrey, who has charge of the wharfboat, cautioned the driver against going over the ropes, but the warning was unheeded. The team was a valuable one, worth about four hundred dollars.

The County Republican Executive Committee.

The Republican Executive Committee met yesterday afternoon at Lincoln Club rooms, with a large attendance.

After the reading and approval of the minutes of the previous meeting reports of progress in the work of the various subcommittees were received.

Remarks were made by members from a number of districts showing an encouraging outlook; active Republicans are at work and the prospect of polling a full vote of the party is good.

The committee will meet again in two weeks.

The Lincoln Club.

At a recent meeting of the Lincoln Club the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—General James S. Negley.

Vice Presidents—Henry Lloyd, Jacob Reese, J. J. Gillespie, Colonel Samuel Kilgore, Colonel Henry B. Hays.

Secretary—Thomas H. Phelps.

Treasurer—Edward House.

Executive Committee—William J. Diehl, Chairman, Charles W. Lewis, Thos. W. Davis, Charles B. Seely, Daniel Wenke.

Committee on Membership—Joseph M. Gazzam, Chairman, R. H. Negley, R. M. Snodgrass, Wm. M. DeCamps, Chris. L. Magee.

A Happy Thought.

The Upper Dauphin Agricultural Society opens its fourth annual fair at Millersburg, Dauphin county, September 7th. Major A. Wilson Norris, the popular private Secretary to Governor Hartranft, has been prevailed upon to deliver the annual address, and this fact insures the literary success of the occasion.

Major Norris has spoken extensively throughout the State on a variety of subjects, and has everywhere left behind him an enviable reputation for oratorical ability.

As the Major's talents are becomingly supplemented by the most pleasing address and the kindest qualities of heart, the Upper Dauphin Society is to be congratulated on its good sense and good fortune in naming its orator for this fall.

New Inclined Plane Project.

A meeting was held yesterday, at No. 136 Fifth avenue, for the purpose of forming an organization preliminary to procuring a charter for the construction of a new inclined plane, from or near the south end of the new point bridge, to the summit of Coal Hill.

On motien, Mr. W. B. Lupton was appointed temporary Chairman, and Kirk Q. Bigham was appointed temporary secretary.

On motion of Mr. Baird a committee was appointed to solicit subscriptions of stock, not exceeding in amount $20,000, and to report to next meeting.

Following is the committee: Messrs. L. H. Durling, K. Q. Bigham, Edward Abel, Wm. Bond, Jos. G. Walters, Alf. Marland, Clement Kester and Jos. McKee.

Mr. Kester moved that a committee of five be appointed for the purpose of drawing a charter and by-laws. Motion carried and the chairman will appoint the committee hereafter.

An adjourned meeting will be held on Saturday, August 14, at 7:30 P. M., at the same place.

Railroad Employee Killed.

The Coroner yesterday held an inquest on the body of Cicero Peoples, who died Monday night at the Western Pennsylvania Hospital, from injuries received by his head coming in contact with the timbers at Ellsworth bridge, in the East End. The deceased was a brakeman on a freight train which arrived at the Union Depot at nine o'clock Monday night. At Torren's Station the conductor saw Mr. Peoples and was in conversation with him, but when the train stopped at Lawrenceville he was missing. Search was instituted, when he was found lying on the top of a car, about to fall off. He was found to be severely injured, and was taken to the Western Pennsylvania Hospital, where he died shortly after. Under the testimony, the Coroner's jury were of the opinion that the deceased was struck by some of the timber at the Ellsworth bridge, workmen now being engaged in putting up the superstructure. Inasmuch as no signal lights seem to have been displayed, the jury thought that the person who has the improvement in charge, was to blame, and censured him.

The deceased was twenty-six years of age and leaves a wife and three children, who live at Nineveh, on the line of the railroad.

"SCALPED" RAILROAD TICKETS.

A Maryland Court Holds that Coupon Tickets Are Not Transferable After the Holder Begins His Journey.

Judge Pearre, in the Circuit Court for Allegany county, Maryland, has rendered an opinion in the case of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company vs. Levi S. Hilleary, involving the right of the defendant to ride upon the unused portions of a coupon ticket, the original holder of which had used a portion and then transferred the remainder.

The first part of the decision denies on technical grounds the motion to quash the writ of replevin sued out by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company for the tickets stolen from the Auditor's office, and is of no particular interest, except in its legal aspect.

The part of the opinion relating to the merits of the case is, however, of vital interest to the railroad company, and that class of dealers in railroad tickets denominated "scalpers"—persons who buy and sell coupons, from stations between the two points originally covered by the through ticket. The general belief has been that these tickets—or coupons—are transferrable, or good until used, but Judge Pearre holds differently. He does not say that the whole ticket may not be sold or transferred, but he holds that a part cannot be used by one person, and the remaining coupons by another. We quote:

These railroad tickets confer upon any bona fide holder a right to use them. The contract to carry, in this form of ticket, is to carry the person who holds it at the commencement of the journey. When the holder of the ticket has once entered upon his journey he, and he only, is entitled to its completion. By commencing the journey he proffers himself to the company as the person to be transported on the ticket which he holds and first presents to the conductor. The company accepts him as the person to whom the passage designated in the ticket is to be furnished. Until the commencement of the journey the ticket is good to any bona fide holder, but when the journey commences the party who is to take it and be properly cared for, is, by mutual agreement, then designated. The ticket does not mean that the very man and no other who purchased it from the company's agent shall make the journey upon it. Such a rule of construction would be too inconvenient. It would prevent a man from purchasing a ticket and giving it to his wife or child. The ticket not designating the person to be carried is good to the holder until he enters upon the journey. It is after this that the words "not transferable" begin to operate as if it had said "before the journey commences this ticket is good to any holder, but after that it is not transferable." To give to the contract the construction contested for by the defendant would change the entire contract of the company. It contracted to carry one person, any one person, but that person must be the same person and not three different persons. The passage is one to the holder, not several different holders, for different sections of the journey. He is the holder who begins the journey on the ticket, and the holding cannot be changed.

The very words of the privilege to stop show that it must be the same passenger to whom this privilege is accorded. "Passengers are privileged to stop only at points named in the coupons." What does the word "stop" here mean? The passenger who gets on the train at Pittsburgh and gets off at Cumberland "stops," or, as the meaning is, stops on the way. Any one who buys this ticket and gets in at Cumberland and rides to Washington, the end of the journey, does not "stop." The man who stops is the man who is to make the whole journey. The privilege of stopping is accorded to him and cannot be construed into a right in him to sell his ticket, and enable another man to begin a new journey. Two journeys are not one journey. Another very sufficient reason forbidding such a construction to be given to the contract. It is well known that all railroad companies charge higher rates for short distances than for longer ones—or for way-tickets than for through-tickets. To allow a passenger to purchase a ticket from St. Louis to Baltimore, ride on it to Cincinnati, sell it, and the passenger rides to Pittsburgh and so on to Cumberland, and the fourth person rides on it to Baltimore would take from the company the difference between the aggregate of its way fares for four passengers going from one of these stations to the other and the through fare. Is not this a change of the contract? And is it not in fact a fraudulent use of a ticket not contemplated by the contract? I am aware of the difficulty that every company must encounter in preventing such a use of a ticket issued in this form. But this difficulty does not change the contract. The fact that they issue tickets in such form as subjects them to the danger of being defrauded, does not take away the fraud or make right which is wrong. Every bank may have its own notes counterfeited, and without knowing the counterfeits may redeem them, but if detected they cannot be enforced. If this is the law applicable to these contracts then the defendant is bound to have known it when he purchased the tickets. They were through tickets. One or more coupons had been taken off. By this fact he was notified that some passenger had entered upon and partly performed the journey on these very tickets, and therefore when he purchased them with the [illegible] detached he was bound to know that these were not transferable, and could only be good in the hands of the party who had already used them. The judgment, therefore, must be entered in favor of the plaintiff.

On motion of Mr. Metzgar, the paper was referred to a sub-committee of five with power to act.

The Street Commissioner was instructed to repave that portion of Wylie avenue between Washington and Congress streets and between the railroad track and the southeast curb.

A communication from the Liberty avenue Commissioners, saying that they only had control of the thoroughfare as far as Thirty-third street, and asking Councils to grade and pave the street from that point to Thirty-third street, so that it shall be open for travel throughout its length, was read. The street is already graded and paved at that point, but the grade does not conform with that made by the Commission beyond Thirty-third street. Referred to a sub-committee.

CONTRACTS LET.

The contract for constructing an eighteen-inch sewer on Mulberry alley from Thirty-second to Thirty-third streets, was let to McDonough & Logan at $1 46 per lineal foot. The other bidders were Martin Joyce, $1 49 per foot, Michael Joyce, $1 60 per foot.

The contract for constructing a 20-inch pipe sewer on Washington street, from Wylie avenue to Fifth avenue, a distance of eight hundred and thirty feet, was let to Martin Joyce at $1 95 per foot, the other bidders being Michael Joyce $2 20, and McDonough & Logan $2 43 per foot.

Some discussion was had on a resolution authorizing the contractor who is setting the curb on Thirty-fifth street to set it two feet into the roadway on the South Side, between Charlotte and Railroad streets. The resolution was finally laid on the table.

The Common Council of Allegheny City held a special meeting last evening, to take action on a resolution providing for filing the bond of the city for the payment of damages consequent on the construction of a sewer in the Sawmill Valley road, passed in Select Council July 29th.

Before proceeding to this business, however, Messrs. Swindell, Hughes and Wall, who were elected to fill unexpired terms, presented their certificates of election, were sworn in and took their seats, the first named to represent the Third ward and the two latter the Ninth ward.

The Chair read the resolution, which was passed without debate.

The rules then were suspended in order that other business could be considered.

Mr. Golden presented a petition for grading Snyder street. Referred.

Also, a remonstrance against the extension of the main sewer on Federal street. Referred.

THE CONTROLLER'S SALARY.

Mr. Davis' Protest and Opinion.

John J. Davis, clerk to the Chief of Police, has addressed a communication to the Mayor, in which he informs that officer that the City Controller is drawing $1,500 per annum more than he is entitled to. The old salary was $2,500. In 1873, an act was passed "for the more safe and speedy collection of taxes in the city of Pittsburgh," and in that act the duties of the Controller were enlarged, and his salary increased to $4,000 per year. Mr. Davis claims that the act is unconstitutional, in that "it contains more than one subject," that part in regard to the increase of salary, not being expressed in the title. Mr. Davis, after stating these facts, "solemnly protests," as a taxpayer, against paying any further excess to Mr. Snodgrass, and hopes the Mayor will give this matter his attention.

To understand this case fully, it must be borne in mind that Mr. Davis has been unable to draw his salary as clerk to the Chief of Police, the Controller, upon a protest of a member of the Police Committee, having refused to sign the first warrant, and the Police Committee having since refused to recognize the position held by Mr. Davis. In other words the Controller holds that there is no legal authority for paying Mr. Davis, the office of Clerk to the Chief of Police never having been established by law. So, whether the Police Committee would pass the warrant or not, the Controller would not countersign it. This action of the Controller, it is said, has moved Mr. Davis to write his "protest" to the Mayor with the hope that the latter officer will refuse to sign the warrants of the Controller!

It is proper to state, further that the act increasing the salary of the Controller was passed before he was elected to the office, and it must be considered as valid and binding until the courts decide otherwise. Mr. Davis has declared it "unconstitutional and void," but as he is not clothed with judicial power, his decision will not amount to much. If his purpose is to compel the Controller to change his position in regard to the clerkship to the Chief of Police, he will signally fail.

The Controller has been drawing his salary under color of law, at least; and until the act is declared void by a competent tribunal, he cannot be prevented from drawing his full pay.

Following is the section of the act of April, 1873:

SECTION 3. That the returns of lost and exonerated taxes, made by the several collectors, shall be examined and verified by the City Controller before the same shall be allowed; and the Controller of said city shall, for the year eighteen hundred and seventy three, and each year thereafter receive the same salary as is now paid to the City Engineer of said city.

A Murderous Husband.

Mrs. Margaret Newhausen appeared before Deputy Mayor Hoerr yesterday, and made information charging her husband with assault and battery. Mrs. N. alleges that the accused entered her room while she was engaged in sewing, and after locking the door and closing the windows, he informed her that he was going to kill her, at the same time seizing her by the throat and throwing her upon a table. While he was making efforts to strangle her, the rustling of one of the blinds, caused by the wind coming through a window which her assailant had forgotten to close, induced the belief in his mind, no doubt, that some one was approaching, and he desisted from his murderous work long enough to go to the window, when Mrs. N. took advantage of the opportunity thus presented and escaped from the house. The magistrate sent an officer to arrest the accused.

ALLEGHENY SCHOOL CONTROLLERS.

Regular Meeting of the Board—Election of That Other Music Teacher—Other Business.

The Allegheny Board of Controllers held their regular monthly meeting last night in the Select Council chamber, Malcolm Hay, Esq., presiding.

The report of the Library Committee was presented by the chairman, Mr. Miller. The number of books issued from the Library during the past six months was 26,592. Bills amounting in the aggregate to about $300 accompanied the report. Report received and warrants ordered.

Dr. Riggs presented the report of the Committee on Teachers and Salaries. The committee recommend that no change be made in salaries for the present year. The report contained a resolution that it is the sense of the Board, where there is but one Principal elected in any ward of the city, containing one or more buildings, that the said Principal shall have control of and exercise supervision over all the schools in the ward.

The election of nine teachers in the First ward was reported by the committee and confirmed by the Board.

The resolution was lost—yeas, 10; nays, 41. The remainder of the report was approved.

Mr. Hobson presented the bond of the First National Bank as the depository of the school fund.

Mr. Hay objected to the approval of the bond, as it was not drawn in accordance with the act of Assembly. He claimed that the signers of the bond should be held individually responsible as well as the bank. He thought the bond was out of the usual form, and moved that it be sent back to the committee for examination.

Mr. Hobson contended that the bond was all right.

Mr. Hay admitted it to be all right so far as the bank was concerned, and that there was no doubt that the bank was perfectly sound, yet he held that it would not bind a director of the bank in his individual capacity.

The motion prevailed and the bond was recommitted.

The election of teachers in the Seventh, Tenth and Eleventh wards was reported and confirmed.

Mr. Grubbs, from the Eighth ward, reported the resignation of Miss Mary M. Algeo and the election of Miss Aggie Wheeler in her place. The election was confirmed.

Mr. Smith moved the Board proceed to the election of a music teacher which failed at the last meeting. Agreed to, and Messrs. Milton McCabe, John Nevin, W. H. Garrett and J. H. Cassidy were put in nomination.

On the fifth ballot Mr. McCabe had 41 votes, a majority of the Board, and was declared elected.

Mr. Miller raised a question as to the election of Mr. Byers as a music teacher at the last meeting. He claimed that Mr. B. had not received a majority of the votes of the Board, and consequently was not elected.

The Chair ruled that the matter had been decided otherwise, and that it must now be tested legally, if at all.

It was decided that Mr. Byers be allotted the Western district, and Mr. McCabe to the Eastern district.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.

A Quarterly Dividend Declared—A New Departure.

From the beginning, the dividends of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company have been declared and made payable semi-annually. Of late years, however, several prominent railroad companies have been in the habit of declaring quarterly dividends, a course which has been found to be generally popular, especially with those holders of their stock who are largely dependent upon it for support.

For some time past there has been considerable discussion of the propriety of a resort to the quarterly system of dividends by the Pennsylvania Railroad, and the Board of Directors, at a meeting held Monday afternoon, acceeded to the very general demand for the change. Accordingly, the Board declared a quarterly dividend of 2 per cent. out of the earnings of the past three months, payable on the 30th of August, on all the stocks of the company as registered on the 31st of July.

It has been customary heretofore to close the transfer books pending the payment of a dividend, but in this case the Board of Directors have ordered that the transfer books shall not be closed at all.

THE SIXTY-SECOND REGIMENT.

Meeting of the Society—Arrangements for the Reunion—Dr. Kerr Chosen Orator.

The society of the Sixty-second Regiment Pennsylvania Volunteers met again last evening at Municipal Hall to perfect arrangements for the coming reunion. Gen. Sweitzer, President, occupied the chair.

[illegible] proposition was made to change the date of the reunion, but the society decided to adhere to the day already fixed—September 17th.

On motion of Dr. Kerr, Castle Shannon was decided upon as the place of meeting, and a committee, consisting of Dr. Kerr, E. G. Kreban, Esq., and Capt. Timmony was appointed to make all the arrangements.

On motion of Capt. Wright, Dr. Kerr, the surgeon of the regiment, was chosen as orator of the day on the occasion of the reunion.

After the transaction of business, not of public interest, the meeting adjourned.

An Ex-Official Complimented.

Pending the transaction of business of the Street Committee last evening, the members adjourned from the Common Council chamber to the pleasant reception room of our City Hall, where a "little affair" occurred that was not down in the bill. The ex-Chairman of the Committee, Samuel P. Fulton, Esq., being brought prominently forward gave an inkling of what was to come. John A. Fox, Esq., called the meeting to order, and made a neat speech. He said they had met to reward a former member for faithful discharge of duty. His resignation had been reluctantly accepted and all had concurred in the adoption of a resolution of thanks. Upon the retirement of Samuel P. Fulton, Esq., Chairman of the Street Committee, from the Common Council, the President of that branch had expressed sorrow at losing him and all the members had agreed thereto. Now, addressing Mr. Fulton, the speaker said he took great pleasure in presenting to the late chairman of the committee a token of their esteem and regard. He then presented to him an elegant and costly French marble cased clock, with thermometer attached.

Mr. Fulton expressed his heartfelt thanks for the testimonial, and in a neat speech referred to the pleasant associations he had had with the committee.

The Bradstreet Agency.

Mr. E. H. Nevin, Jr., business manager of the Bradstreet Mercantile Agency, filed an answer yesterday to the proceedings instituted against the Agency by Samuel Hodgett, who alleges that the defendant published a judgment against him which was not in existence, thereby damaging him greatly in his business. The defendants claim that the judgment was found among the records of the county, that it was published in a private circular, and could not have damaged the plaintiff in his business, inasmuch as he was insolvent at the time of the publication complained of.

Explosion of Gas.

A slight fire occurred between twelve and one o'clock yesterday afternoon, in the frame building on the corner of Sandusky and Ohio streets, Allegheny, occupied as a fish store by John L. Wyland. Gas had been escaping from the meter, which was placed under the show window in the storeroom, and Mr. Wyland lit a piece of paper to ascertain where the leak was. The moment the blaze came near the leak an explosion took place, and in an instant the wood work was on fire. The firemen took off the boards on the side of the house and used the fire extinguishers to good effect. Mr. Wyland was severely burned about the face and hands.

Man Run Over by a Wagon.

Between five and six o'clock last evening an accident occurred on Fifth avenue extension, near High street, by which a man named John Jones was severely injured. He was riding upon the rear end of a load of lumber and the jolt of the vehicle threw him off. He fell under one of the hind wheels, and the wheel ran over his arm. Jones was conveyed to his residence, No. 41 Grant street, where he is attended by Dr. Coffey.

Body of a Drowned Boy Found.

A special dispatch from Steubenville last night says: "The body of an unknown boy, about twelve years of age, four feet in height, dark hair, entirely naked, was found floating in the river at the foot of Brown's Island to-day. It is supposed to be that of Thomas Keenan, of the Ninth ward, Allegheny, who was drowned last Friday near Lewis, Oliver & Phillips' mill. The body was coffined and buried opposite the foot of the island, on the Virginia side."

The High Rivers.

Late last evening the Monongahela river was at a stand, meaning of course, as to height. The Allegheny was on a rise and rushing into the Ohio at a terrific rate, thus preventing a fall in the Monongahela. The first dam and the locks in the latter river were completely covered, and the brick house on the outer pier was in danger. Holes had been broken through the sides to allow the passsage of the torrent and prevent its being swept away.

Alleged Watch Thief.

A boy nomed James O'Hare was yesterday arrested by officer Miller, of Allegheny, on a charge of stealing a watch from the house of Isabella Kennedy. He will have a hearing before Mayor Phillips next Monday.

BASE BALL.

The Xanthas Defeat the Neshannocks—Braddocks vs. Centennials.

The long talked of game between the Xanthas, of this city, and the Nashannocks, of New Castle, was played yesterday afternoon, in Union Park, in presence of several hundred spectators. As everybody expected, the game was a hotly contested one, the score—10 to 9—showing that the victorious club had no "soft snap."

The game commenced at ten minutes past three, but rain began to descend soon afterward, causing a suspension for about half an hour. The men on both sides showed considerable nervousness at the beginning, and the playing was rather below the average of amateurs. In the second inning, however, the Neshannocks took courage and got in their work to some purpose, white-washing their opponents and scoring six. After this the Xanthes recovered, and played finely to the end of the game. Following is the

BRADDOCKS VS. CENTENNIALS.

Monday afternoon the first game of a series between the Braddocks and Centennial Base Ball Clubs, the latter club hailing from Latrobe, was played at Braddocks. The score, which we give below, shows that the Centennials were badly beaten:

This afternoon at two o'clock the Braddocks and Neshannocks will play at Braddock's Fields.

Suspicious Persons.

Two men giving their names as Charles Fox and Samuel Palmer, were arrested last night on Fifth avenue extension and locked up at the Central Station as suspicious persons. They had in their possession a new butcher's cleaver, which they were trying to sell.

Albert Robinson was arrested yesterday afternoon near the grain elevator for suspicious conduct. In his pockets were found two revolvers and four knives, all new, supposed to have been stolen.

Highway Robbery.

Joseph Gestler, a German farmer, entered the Allegheny Moyor's office yesterday morning with a face both muddy and bloody. He stated that at an early hour he was on his way home from the city and stopped at a pump in Soft Soap Hollow, on the Butchers' Run road, to get a drink. While thus engaged three fellows knocked him into a mudhole and robbed him of twenty-five dollars. The robbery was perpetrated near Fralich's tavern.

CITY MATTERS IN BRIEF.

A NUMBER of United States troops passed through the city yesterday for the West.

ELECTION assessors are engaged in hanging up the lists of voters in the several districts.

A SUFFICIENT number of councilman are still at home to form a quorum of committees.

CHIEF ENGINEER HAMILL, of the Fire Department, is still improving, and it is hoped he is now out of danger.

A RUMOR, current yesterday afternoon, that the boiler of a steamboat had exploded on the upper Monongahela was unfounded.

GEORGE SUTTERMEYER, a fugitive from Altoona, was arrested at the Union Depot yesterday and returned to answer two serious charges.

KARL STOFINGER, charged on oath of Fred. Bauman with false pretenses, was yesterday committed by Alderman Roesch, of Allegheny, for a hearing.

A LOST BOY, about five or six years old, was picked up in Allegheny yesterday, by a policeman, who left him at the house of Mrs. Feaney, on Strawberry lane.

THE Executive Committee of the Humane Society will meet this afternoon at 218 Penn avenue. Those interested in the society are invited to be present.

THE "running card" for the fire companies has been neatly printed by Anderson & Son, and is now in the various houses. The arrangement for responses to alarms was made by Chief Hamill and Superintendent Fullwood.

THE Hope street sewer broke in night before last at a point between Marion and Van Braam streets. Upon examination street Commissioner Linderman found that an old wooden connection had rotted away, leaving the brick work unsupported.

L. A HUNTLEY was yesterday required to give bail for a hearing before Alderman McMasters on a charge of [illegible], proprietor of a grocery, is the prosecutor, and he alleges that the accused came into his store, gobbled a two-dollar note from the counter and scampered away.

THREE of Gray's model barges broke loose near the Pan Handle Railroad bridge yesterday morning, and floated down against the Smithfield street bridge, tearing away about twenty feet of the railing and a number of bolts and braces. One of the barges had its "hog chains" broken and was lost. The other two were saved.

JOHN HOOVER complained to Mayor Phillips yesterday that Samuel Shuma, Jacob Elasson, H. Lyle, Jennie Donley and Ellen Donley got up a small riot in the Butchers' Run district, throwing stones and smashing things generally. The accused were arrested, but this being their first offense they were released on paying the costs.

A MULE attached to car No. 26, Pleasant Valley Railroad, met with a painful accident to-day on the Hand street bridge. It was hitched with a horse, and the latter becoming fractious knocked it down. In falling the mule struck against the piece of iron holding the brake in position, and received a fearful gash on the haunch. The animal was taken to the stable for treatment.

Embalming the Dead.

Among the various processes adopted for embalming the dead, Dr. Hutton's is universally acknowledged to be one of the best in use. The testimony of thousands could be adduced, embracing army officers and prominent physicians, all tending to establish the fact that this process is one of the most successful with which moderns are acquainted. It is attended with more pleasing results than any other process in use, and is regarded as a remarkable discovery, or rather a revival of a lost art. The remains subjected to the process are remarkable for the naturalness of the expression, and the absence of discolorment. This process has been employed with unvarying success by W. H. Devore, 104 Grant street, who has the only right to employ Dr. Hutton's process in Pennsylvania, Ohio, New York and Virginia. The value of the process is something that we would not attempt to estimate. Suffice it to say that the public, through it, receive a benefit and a source of satisfaction such as could not be supplied by any other means. Mr. Devore is prepared to answer all questions concerning the process, which, we may add, requires but one hour.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Many Who Are Suffering

from the effects of the warm weather and are debilitated, are advised by physicians to take moderate amounts of whisky two or three times during the day. In a little while those who adopt this advice frequently increase the number of "drinks," and in time become confirmed inebriates. A beverage which will not create thirst for intoxicating liquors, and which is intended especially for the benefit of debilitated persons, whether at home or abroad, is Dr. Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic. Containing the juices of many medicinal herbs, this preparation does not create an appetite for the intoxicating cup. The nourishing and the life-supporting properties of many valuable natural productions contained in it and well known to medical men have a most strengthening influence. A single bottle of the tonic will demonstrate its valuable qualities. For debility arising from sickness, over exertion or from any cause whatever, a wineglassful of Sea Weed Tonic taken after meals will strengthen the stomach and create an appetite for wholesome food. To all who are about leaving their homes, we desire to say that the excellent effects of Dr. Schenck's seasonable remedies, Sea Weed Tonic and Mandrake Pills, are particularly evident when taken by those who are injuriously affected by a change of water and diet. No person should leave home without taking a supply of these safeguards along. For sale by all druggists.

They are becoming worse every day. As the meadows are mowed and the hay stacked the hopper skips for pastures green and new. They have lit into gardens devouring everything green, and we learn that they have commenced on the corn. The late rains, it was hoped, would destroy them to such an extent that they could do but little harm, but they hopped upon the fences and laughed at the storm, the winds and the rain. Since, they seem to go on in their work of destruction with resumed appetites.

The Danville, Pa., American says: Danville seems to be among the last to feel a revival of business, as it was among the first to be affected by the crisis. For the past two years our town has been more or less crippled from the depression commencing with the failure of the National Iron Company, quickly followed by the crisis throughout the entire country, which has its worst effect upon the iron manufacturing enterprises, and especially the manufacture of rails in which we are chiefly engaged. Now there seems to be an effort at revival, and our mills are receiving a few small orders with a fair prospect of tolerably steady work. We hope the prospects will be fully realized though we have no positive assurance of any such result. In our town the Cooperative mill is running with some prospects ahead, and a portion of the Pennsylvania mills, Danville Iron Works and Groves' furnace are in operation, but not running full. The old National Works must necessarily lie idle until the courts decide what disposition is to be made of them, and such decree places them in the hands of some responsible and reputable parties. Even these slight revivals and better prospects have a good effect upon the business of our town and makes everybody feel more comfortable.
